

EXTRA SESSION
PLANS SPIKED
BY GOVERNOR

Hardman Has "No Intention Whatsoever" of Calling Special Session of Assembly, He Says.

CAN SEE NO NEED FOR SUCH ACTION

Statement Answers Recent Rumors That Legislative Leaders Wanted Call Early in 1928.

Governor L. G. Hardman stated emphatically Tuesday that he is not giving any consideration whatever to suggestions that he will call an extra session of the Georgia legislature to meet in January or February. For several weeks rumors have been heard that certain leaders of the legislature were endeavoring to persuade the governor to call an extra session of that body but the governor said he was squarely opposed to the holding of any such session.

"There is no need of any extra session of the legislature existing at present as I see it," the governor said. "I have no intention whatsoever of calling such a session."

The joint penitentiaries committee of the two branches of the legislature recently completed an inspection trip to several state prisons and is preparing to submit some far-reaching recommendations to the legislature at its next session. Some of the members of this committee felt that the recommendations should be heard at an extra session.

The recent session of the legislature was the first held under the new biennial sessions law and 1928 is the first "off year" under this law.

NATIONAL FORCES
CAPTURE CANTON

Communists Are Routed in Battle in Which It Is Estimated 3,000 Were Killed.

Shanghai, December 14.—(AP)—The nationalists have recaptured Canton. It is estimated that 3,000 were killed in the fighting.

Nationalists, by an enveloping attack last night (Tuesday), regained Canton city, except police headquarters, where the communist forces with "certain Russians" are holding out.

The Chinese navy, which seems not to have joined the reds, raked the band with 12-pounders from their gunboats, and with machine guns.

The dead may even number up to 4,000.

AMERICANS IN DANGER
TERRITORY EVACUATED.

Washington, December 13.—(AP)—Rumors that communists at Canton might attack the foreign settlement on the island of Shamoen "in order to create an incident" prompted the landing of American sailors and field guns from the gunboat Sacramento, Admiral Bristol, commanding the Asiatic fleet, informed the navy department today in a message dated yesterday. Evacuation of Americans from outlying districts was proceeding, the message added, 15 had been brought to Shanghai by 10 p. m. December 12. The gunboat Asheville was proceeding from Fuchow to Canton to assist the Sacramento.

A report had reached Admiral Bristol that Chinese government troops were concentrating on the island of

House Democrats
Rout Defenders
Of Tax Measure

Cordon of Republican Votes for Administration Bill Is Pierced for Second Time in 2 Days.

CORPORATION TAX
CHANGE IS VOTED

Democrats Force Amendment Barring Affiliated Returns by Parent and Subsidiary Corporations

Washington, December 13.—(AP)—The cordon of republican votes defending the tax bill in the house was pierced today for the second time by a democratic attack that hit directly at large corporations which file affiliated tax returns.

The democrats, by a vote of 158 to 153, put through an amendment which in effect would prohibit parent and subsidiary corporations from filing affiliated tax returns on their annual returns. One republican, Gifford, of Massachusetts, voted with the democrats.

Another Vote Needed.

The proposal, like the one adopted yesterday which would reduce the tax rate for small corporations with a net taxable income of $15,000 or less, is subject to another vote before passage of the bill. At that time the democrats can be called upon to sustain their positions on a roll call vote.

Both of the amendments were sponsored by Representative Garner, of Texas, the minority leader on the house ways and means committee, which drafted the revenue measure. He said that one objection raised to the amendment adopted yesterday in favor of smaller corporations was that it would increase the total tax cut proposed by the committee. Estimating that today's proposal applying to affiliated returns would affect approximately 950 large corporations, and increase by $24,000,000 annually the federal tax on such pay, he argued that would balance the loss under the other amendment which, he said, would benefit 70 per cent of the corporations in the country.

Green Defends.

Chairman Green declared that provisions in the bill applying to affiliated returns had been recommended by the joint congressional committee on internal revenue legislation, and that they were by far the best that could be worked out.

Gifford said that the only argument he had heard in favor of retaining the provisions was because they had been recommended by the joint committee and that the house should give careful consideration to such matters before writing them into law.

SMITH TO BE FIRST TO FACE SENATE
PROBE COMMITTEE

Washington, December 13.—(AP)—Its authority reaffirmed by the senate, the special campaign funds committee decided today to proceed first with the case of Senator-elect Frank L. Smith, of Illinois, before reopening that of Senator-elect William S. Vare, of Pennsylvania.

Smith, who returned to his home at Dwight, Ill., after the senate refused last week to permit him to take his oath of office, was asked in a telegram whether he could be ready to present his case next Friday. If that date is not acceptable the committee asked him to fix the time for a hearing.

"In this connection," the telegram added, "the committee will accord you every privilege to submit such evidence, produce such witnesses as you desire, and will be pleased to hear any statement which you may care to make either in person or by counsel."

VIADUCT CONTRACT
SIGNED BY MAYOR
AND POWER HEAD

$400,000 Donation From Company Now Available for Construction of Two New Bridges.

Adequate financing of construction of the Pryor street and Central avenue viaducts was assured Tuesday afternoon when Preston S. Arkwright, president of the Georgia Power company, and Mayor L. N. Ragsdale, of Atlanta, signed a pact whereby the company will contribute $400,000 towards erection of the bridges.

Action of Mr. Arkwright and the mayor in approving an agreement by which the city is to get the additional financial assistance has been expected for the past several weeks. The money will be deposited in a local bank to the credit of the city within a few days, power company officials announced.

Actual signing of the paper ended opposition of a few members of city council to signing a contract containing a provision that the city would not remove present laws outlawing jitneys, which was a stipulation of the original offer of the company to make the contribution.

In announcing his approval of the contract Tuesday afternoon, Mayor Ragsdale declared that the viaduct construction thus has been placed on a firm financial basis, and that the work can proceed without interruption until the twin projects have been completed.

Mayor Pleased.

He also expressed gratification for the cooperation of members of city council in assisting the administration in obtaining a "good trade" for the city, which he declared he believes the city got in the arrangement.

Mr. Arkwright declined to make

College Park Constable and Others Named in Indictments by Fulton Grand Jury.

Indictments charging blackmail, through extortion of money under threat of legal prosecution, were returned Tuesday against T. W. Bulfin, College Park constable, and others, by the Fulton county grand jury. This action followed institution of contempt proceedings against L. W. James, College Park justice of the peace, for failure to produce certain warrants and dockets of his court, for the benefit of the jury in investigation of the blackmail charges. The contempt proceedings were instituted by Superior Court Judge G. H. Howard.

Three indictments on the blackmail charges, each dealing with different indictments of similar character, were returned Tuesday against Bulfin and co-defendants, while other indictments, on which the constable is already under bond, were returned against him on December 3 and December 10. Total bond, including the new indictments, will now amount to $13,500 in Bulfin's case.

According to the indictments Bulfin, with others, is alleged to have secured money from various persons by accusing them of misdemeanors and threatening court action.

Contempt Order.

According to the contempt order issued Monday against James by Judge Howard, the justice of the peace was ordered by the grand jury, under subpoena, to produce warrants and the

Mrs. Grace Campbell, of Miami, Sobs as She Relates to Jury Efforts To Reconcile Couple.

RUM CERTIFICATES
CAUSE OF TROUBLE

Ruth Remus To Be Recalled to Witness Stand Today; Taft Undecided on Summoning Dodge.

Cincinnati, Ohio, December 13.—(AP) Sister of the slain Imogene Holmes Remus, Mrs. Grace Campbell, of Miami, Fla., today testified in the murder trial of her brother-in-law, George Remus, former "king of bootleggers," how she had spent nearly two months in a vain effort to bring them to an agreement.

"She fought I truly to hold back her tears but they came along with great sobs when she told that Remus, demanding the return of whisky certificates held by Mrs. Remus, had threatened to divert her of every cent of her fortune, and every shred of reputation."

Remus threatened that he would "crack a skull" unless he "back the certificates," which represented a much liquor in warehouses, she said.

"Could Not Sleep."

Once, Mrs. Campbell testified upon one of her ten visits to Remus while he was a prisoner in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., she had asked him why "my sister cried and was so unhappy and could not sleep at night after seeing him."

"He replied that she did not understand him," testified Mrs. Campbell.

Her testimony was given in a voice so low that probably not more than a dozen persons in the courtroom, including judge, jury and lawyers, heard all of it.

Her chair was moved from the witness box to a position alongside the jury box. Judge Chester R. Shook then could not hear and he and the court reporter had to move over an arm's length away.

Lawyers Gentle.

Mrs. Campbell was said to suffer from heart disease and the lawyers were very gentle with her. On her part she tried valiantly to maintain control of herself and gave away only when quoting directly Remus' remarks to her sister.

Her appearance brought the high point of a court session which started furiously with a vitriolic speech by Remus which he declared against Prosecutor Charles P. Taft II, and Franklin L. Dodge, Jr., the former federal department of justice agent to whom Remus attributes all Newark, N. J., December 13.—Recorder Frederick Stoddard, in the Irvington, N. J., police court, upheld the right of women to talk about each other. One woman complained that her neighbors were holding card parties and talking about her.

Judge Stoddard refused to take a complaint against the neighbors and issued the following order: "They had a perfect right. It is one of the inalienable privileges of women to hold card parties at which the neighbors are placed on the frying pan and their faults exaggerated and their virtues minimized."

Mays Landing, N. J., December 13. (United News).—Fearing that drug addicts may attempt to liberate Mrs. Margaret Lilliendahl and Willis Beach when they are transferred to the state prison in Trenton, Sheriff James Cimino is keeping secret the time of their removal.

Since the sentencing of the two to ten years in prison for the slaying of Mrs. Lilliendahl's husband, an aged narcotic specialist of South Vineland, Sheriff Cimino said he had received many letters indicating that a drug ring was concerned in the crime.

The sheriff would not say what the motive of the rescue might be.

LINDBERGH RACES OVER DIXIE

PLAY OVATION FOR A VIATORSTATE RESTS CASE
IN TRIAL OF HAYES
ON POISON CHARGE

Blakely, Ga., December 13.—(AP) The state rested swiftly to conclusion and rested last today after introduction of a mass of testimony by which it seeks to fasten upon Harris Hayes, 60-year-old farmer, responsibility for the alleged poison death of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Gladys Gould Hayes, of Detroit. Twenty-two witnesses were called to the stand by the prosecution.

Tomorrow, the defense will have its inning, and will begin the presentation of testimony calculated to clear the aged man.

In presenting its evidence, the state, under a blanket objection by the defense, sought to show that the death of Gladys Hayes was similar to that of Amos Hayes, her husband, and James Hayes, the youngest son of the defendant, for whose deaths the father is also under indictment.

The daughter-in-law died at the Hayes home here while visiting on August 31 shortly after her husband's demise. Harris Hayes is now being tried for Mrs. Hayes' death only.

Same Symptoms Shown.

Seking to show that the deaths of the three were similar in most respects, the state placed on the stand physicians and experts who testified that in every instance the victims died as a result of poisoning. The state charged that the poison was administered by Harris Hayes with the motive of obtaining insurance money.

After testimony was that the defendant had objected to having an autopsy performed on Gladys Hayes following her death, and that he had

Police Claim Two of Arrested Negroes Admit Recent Series of Robberies and Shooting.

Clarence George, Ed Capers and Walter Watts, three negroes, were arrested by detectives and police early Tuesday night in connection with the shooting of J. M. Neighbors, on Sylvan avenue, and a number of recent hold-ups and robberies in the city. According to detectives, the negroes admit the holdups.

Watts was arrested on Connelly street by Patrolmen M. B. Johnson and Ed Arthur, recognized from descriptions given the police department. Watts readily admitted his guilt and implicated the other two, who were later arrested in an automobile on Atlanta avenue near Grant park.

When Detectives C. L. Taylor, W. J. Stephens and J. W. Lowe arrested George and Capers, they found an automatic pistol in the car. Capers, according to detectives, admitted his part of the robberies, while George will be questioned early today.

W. B. Hordgins, of Hendricks avenue, was jailed early Tuesday night by Officer O. D. Hardy, after he had entered the Kimball House Pressing club at 16 North Pryor street, according to police reports. He was equipped with a knife, fork and spoon, made into keys, and also had a large number of keys on his person when arrested, according to police. He is being held on a charge of burglary.

HEAVY RAINS SEND ARKANSAS STREAMS
OUT OF BANKS

Little Rock, December 13.—(AP)—Another flood phantom hovered over north and central Arkansas, battling ground of the elements, tonight following torrential rains that sent the Arkansas and White rivers to menacing levels and damaged late crops in the bottom lands. Flood warnings were issued and farmers began moving household goods and stocks to higher ground.

Osark on the Arkansas had a 7.00 inch rain last night and today and the river rose to 16.5 feet, stopping traffic east and west of the town. At Fort Smith a 5.26 inch rain fell, flooding the city and driving a few families from their homes. The water drained to the Arkansas and was an impediment for the sixth dangerous rise of the year. The rise is expected to reach Little Rock tomorrow but flood signs are not expected here unless more rain falls. A downpour fell this afternoon and tonight the skies were overcast.

Civilians of Atlanta
Take 3rd Opportunity

CLUB TO CARE FOR FAMILY IN EVERY WAY

The golden spirit of generosity is abroad in Atlanta this Yuletide season.

"Opportunity Number Three" has been subscribed in full by the Civitan club of Atlanta.

To a defenseless widow and eight children was assured food and shelter and clothing for the whole of 1928—a Christmas whose bounties will be given day on day for twelve months to come.

Strong shoulders of Atlanta business men, already squared under burdens the weight of which they only can know, have willingly assumed this obligation, and more besides.

Civitan Earl D. Knight, general manager of the Guthman Laundry, will see that this family's washing is done free during 1928.

Civitan John Dunwoody, manager of the Winecoff hotel, will supply them with silverware and china.

Civitan Fred Curtis, prominent Atlanta dentist, will see to dental attention for the family.

And a Civitan committee was formed to provide them with a Christmas celebration.

The greatest number of seconds ever vouchsafed a proposal before the Civitan club were offered Tuesday when the motion was put to the membership at its luncheon meeting.

But "Opportunities Nos. 1 and 2" remain unsubscribed. Opportunity No. 4 will bring $455 of Christmas to that family all during 1928. Half that sum will assure them six months of health, food, and warmth. A quarter of $455 will care for them until April 1, 1928. And $40 will give them food and shelter for better than one month.

Opportunity No. 2, amounting to $755, is one of the most urgent cases the Family Welfare society has had in years. An Atlanta, or an organization of a group of persons, who will do as Atlanta's Civitans did Tuesday, and take the entire amount, will be repaid a thousandfold by the monthly reports which will be rendered to the donor by the welfare society.

Take either of the two above "Opportunities" or six months' worth, or better "three months' worth" than not at all. They merit your aid and your friendly interest.

The No. 1 family has been totally dependent since the father was sent to the state insane asylum. The mother is invalid. The eldest of three children, a girl, is struggling through school, handicapped by malnutrition and poor clothes, while the little sisters are young, and helpless, and hungry, and cold.

"Opportunity" No. 2 family is Mrs. T. S. Sonny and Sister Sue. The mother is tubercular, Sonny is a cripple and Sue woefully underweight.

We earnestly solicit your aid. A check mailed to the "Ten Opportunities Editor," in care of The Constitution, will go to the Atlanta Family Welfare society to be administered direct to the family you specify. No penny will be deducted for overhead; every bit of money you give will be received by the mother, and

STIMSON NAMED FILIPINO GOVERNOR

Washington, December 13.—(AP)—At the urgent request of President Coolidge, Henry L. Stimson, of New York, former secretary of war, successful mediator in the Nicaraguan civil war and close friend of late Major General Leonard Wood whom he succeeds, has accepted appointment as governor-general of the Philippine Islands. The nomination was sent to the senate today by the president. In accepting the post Stimson is understood to have put aside fears that his health would not permit a projected stay at Manila. Secretary Stimson is one of the most distinguished members of the New York bar and has long been active in republican politics. In 1900, two years after he was admitted to the bar in New York, he became a member of the law firm of Root & Clark, of which Elihu Root, one time secretary of state, was the senior member.

From 1906 to 1909 he served as United States attorney for the southern district of New York, and in 1910 was defeated at the polls as the republican candidate for governor. He served with the A. E. F. as lieutenant colonel of the 305th field artillery.

lighting the living trees at the Christmas tree. Mrs. Park, in her letter to the Christmas Tree editor, says: "For many years on the 19th of January, the birthday of Robert E. Lee, I have patriotically planted a tree. All my life I have loved and protected trees and have lived to see many fine ones bear bushels of pears. I also enjoy the shade of oaks and ornamental trees in variety. The last tree I planted on Lee's birthday was a cedar shaped and as beautiful as one could wish, and this Christmas it is to be electrically lighted in front of our residence. So I'm right in line with our Camp Fire Girls. God bless them for the stand they are taking to conserve our trees and at the same time enhancing the beauty of the Christmas season."

Scouts Will Wire. For lighting trees and shrubbery, all colors is a quantity of bulbs of small wattage and of various colors, sockets, wires and a switch, all of which may be purchased at a negligible cost compared to the enchanting beauty they bring to a lawn and to the residence.

The material may be purchased at any electrical supply house and if you do not know so very much about wiring, you can phone Camp Fire headquarters and they'll assign a Boy Scout who has had electrical experience to do it for you, or you can be served at any electrical shop, if you prefer.

So, get in line, and let's make Atlanta a warm and colorful fairland for all the world to see Christmas. Write the Christmas Tree Editor about it!

RESCUE 150 MINERS TRAPPED IN SHAFTS FLOODED BY CREEK

Mercer, Pa., December 13.—(AP)—One hundred and fifty coal miners were trapped in the Penney mine of the Lehigh Coal company at Lehigh, near here today when Neshaug creek suddenly overflowed, and rescue crews worked for several hours before all the men were brought safely from the workings.

General Chiang said:

"The communist uprising and coup d'etat in Canton was inspired and directed with the soviet, hence our only course is to break off relations and close the consulates located in our territories. We have instructed C. C. Wu, minister of foreign affairs of the nationalist government, to carry out the party's instructions immediately."

Ben Hill Plans Brightly Lighted Community Tree

BY ELMO HAMBY,
Christmas Tree Editor.

Paralleling the plan of the Camp Fire Girls, sponsored by The Constitution to "Light the Living Trees" this Christmas, Ben Hill, Ga., a community about nine miles from Atlanta, will this year have a "living Christmas tree" for all the residents of that section, both white and colored.

Mrs. F. Howard Jackson, of Ben Hill, in a letter to the Christmas Tree Editor, pointed out that this probably the first rural community in Georgia and possibly the entire south, to inaugurate the custom of a living Christmas tree for the community.

Mrs. Jackson says: "Ben Hill, a cross-roads postoffice and settlement about nine miles out from Atlanta, is going to have a living community Christmas tree. The pretty little cedar has been growing for many years right on one of the cross-roads corners, and in the midst of the business houses of our little hamlet."

Idea Inspiration. "Until this past summer, Ben Hill had no electric lights and such a tree was impossible. We are sorry we cannot give the Camp Fire Girls credit for the idea of our tree. It was the idea of a local woman, one of the community in November, she passed it on to the Home Demonstration club and they have sponsored it."

"It is to be, veritably, a community tree, for the children of both the white and colored schools are busy making paper chains, stringing popcorn and red berries and in every way making the tree really theirs."

"On Saturday evening, Christmas eve, we plan to have the formal lighting of the tree. This is to take place at 6 o'clock and the oldest resident is to be asked to turn on the lights. A good chorus, composed of the white and colored children of the section, will unite in singing several Christmas carols."

Have Able Leader. "A small, capable organ has been secured and the services of an able leader. When we sing, 'Joy to the World, the Lord is Come,' we are not interpreting it as 'Joy to the White Folks' but as 'Joy to the White Folks and the Colored Folks'."

"A single star will adorn the very top of our tree and the rest of it will be gay with colored lights and handmade decorations. We are taking pains to have the tree brightly and cheerily to every passer-by for the holiday days and nights of the holiday season."

"We believe we are the first rural community in Georgia, if not in the south, to inaugurate such a custom, one which does not consider color or creed."

And our guess is that there'll be a whole lot of folks from 'tween the folks of Ben Hill just to see such a gorgeous sight."

Now about your own "living trees." Are you going to fall in line with this beautiful plan and light them?

MENTAL EXPERT TESTIMONY ARGUED IN ROGERS CASE

LaGrange, Texas, December 13.—(AP)—State and defense attorneys in the trial of Rebecca Bracy Rogers, accused bank robber, argued for hours today over the question of whether testimony expected from a prosecution expert concerning the mental history of Mrs. Rogers could be used to impeach testimony supporting the defense plea of insanity.

After the defense had rested its case, Dr. Joseph Costello, of Austin, was placed on the stand as a rebuttal witness by District Attorney Fred Blumfield. The defense immediately called for a showdown as to how he would testify and the jury was excused. The court took the question under advisement tonight.

Mrs. Rogers is charged with holding up the Farmers National bank at Ruda, Texas, and robbing it of about $10,000.

U. S. TESTS PROVE COTTON BAGGING AS GOOD AS JUTE

OKLAHOMA SENATE TO HEAR CHARGES

Oklahoma City, December 13.—(United News).—State Senator John Goodall announced tonight at an informal gathering of senators in their hotel headquarters that he had been assured by Governor Henry S. Johnston that the senate would be able to meet unmolested in its chambers at the capitol building Wednesday morning.

He said the governor would issue an announcement to that effect before morning. With troops patrolling the corridors of the statehouse to prevent the insurgent legislators from convening, however, it was considered doubtful that the governor would rescind his order to allow the senators to meet.

The senate, already having resolved itself into a court of impeachment, plans to hear six impeachment charges against the governor and two other state officers voted by the house.

Goodall, following his announcement, said that as for himself he did "not want to go over" to the capitol unless he felt Governor Johnston had definitely proclaimed his decision.

So far as could be learned, the senate has held no formal meeting since it was summoned by Mac Williamson, president pro tem. It was understood about 30 senators were here.

Allegations of incompetency and corruption were voted against the three state officials at a hotel early this morning by the insurgent members of the house who had been prevented by the militia from meeting in the state house.

The controversy between the governor and his legislature appeared to be moving toward a long court fight to determine whether the law makers were within their rights in meeting outside the capitol and whether Governor Johnston had overstepped his authority in calling for state troops to bar the legislature from its chamber.

General Barrett, commanding the national guards controlling the corridors of the capitol, announced the troops would not interfere with the senate meeting as long as it was not held in the state house.

The impeachment charges filed against Governor Johnston included:

1.—Violated the peace and dignity of Oklahoma by the calling of troops.

2.—Guilty of incompetency by reckless delegation of non-delegable powers to others.

3.—Corruptly contracted for the services of Jose Alvarado, Mexican sharpshooter, a special officer while Alvarado was under conviction of burglary and wanted for a Texas bank robbery.

4.—Corruptly contracted for the services of Kirby Fitzpatrick as a state banking department attorney, paying Fitzpatrick $3,500 before the attorney discharged any duty.

5.—Unlawfully issued a $7,000 deficiency certificate to create positions not authorized by the legislature.

Christian Council Urges Larger Portion of Bond Money for Negro Schools

Petition Presented to School Board Tuesday; Action on Pay Slash De- ferred.

A petition of the Atlanta Christian council urging the Atlanta board of education to adhere to recommendations of Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools, regarding improvements to negro schools from bond funds was accepted; action on a proposed cut in salaries of employees of the school system was deferred until city council has time to act Monday on a plan to obviate the slash, and purchase of $172,500 worth of equipment from bond funds was voted Tuesday afternoon as outstanding features of the regular monthly meeting of the Atlanta board of education.

The petition from the Christian council, which was offered by Marion Jackson as spokesman, was received and filed.

Text of the petition follows:

Text of Petition.
"To the board of education: The colored population of Atlanta, according to the last census, is 62,831—approximately one-third of the population of 200,618 credited to us by the 1920 census. Except in bond elections, these people have no voice in our city government. In bond elections, where a certain percentage of the registered voters must vote in favor of bonds to authorize the city to issue them, if the election is close, the 3,971 negroes who are registered, and by voting against bonds, defeat the effort to issue bonds, but once the issuance of bonds has been authorized, the negroes have no voice in directing the expenditure of the money raised by the sale of the bonds.

"They must rely upon the good faith of our white race.

"In the last bond election public officials and white citizens of Atlanta promised the negroes of this city that Atlanta would spend on negro schools a fair proportion of the $3,500,000, which was proposed for the city public schools, if the negroes of the city would favor the issuance of the bonds. Relying upon this promise, the negroes worked and voted for the bonds, thus making possible the issue, which means so much to the welfare of Atlanta.

$700,000 Recommended.

"Professor Willis A. Sutton, our superintendent of schools, in making his recommendation for the expenditure of the bond money, has recommended that the city spend out of the $3,500,000 authorized for school buildings, approximately $611,000 on negro school buildings, and out of the $500,000 set aside for school equipment, a fair proportion on equipment for negro schools—making a total recommended expenditure for negro schools of approximately $700,000, or approximately one-fifth of the bond money for one-third of our population. This sum, although it is less than the $1,000,000 for which the negroes have asked, and which is still not one-third of the total authorized by their vote, would satisfy the people and enable them to believe that our white people have kept faith with them.

"But it has come to our attention, that the recommendations of our superintendent have not been adopted by the board of education and the board commission, and that if the allotment of bond money made, and proposed to be made for our public schools should stand as the final decision of our city, the negro schools would receive only $251,800, or for one-third of our people, less than one-tenth of the bond money and a certain proportion, not yet determined, out of the $500,000 set aside for equipment.

"As ministers and members of white Christian churches, and as white citizens of Atlanta, we call these facts and the way in which they appear to us, to your attention in the confident hope and belief that you will take the steps necessary to prevent such a development.

Must Keep Faith.
"Where all of the power rests in the hands of members of our race, as it does in this case, there can be no doubt that it places an overwhelming obligation upon us to keep faith with our negro citizens and to do exact justice to them and their rights. This is true, not only because of the effect, which doing otherwise might possibly have upon our negro citizens and upon our reputation as a people before the world, but also because none of us, the sight of God would wish to do less than keep faith with, and do exact justice even to the weakest and most helpless of the earth.

"There are in the city of Atlanta 21,565 negroes under the age of 21. At present 1,582 of these are attending school where daily triple sessions are held; 7,574 of them are attending the double sessions held. Enough schools and equipment have not been provided for them.

"We appeal to you, as our representatives, to do no less than carry out the recommendation of our superintendent of schools, Professor Sutton. Even, when this is done, the needs of the negro schools will not have been met, but we shall have kept faith with them. Surely Atlanta cannot and will not do less.

Very respectfully,

"Rev. Marvin A. Franklin, Rev. Wallace Rogers, Rev. J. L. Jackson, Rev. A. J. Moncrief, Jr., Dr. W. L. Ballenger, Rev. George L. King, George B. Himmann, W. G. Wellborn, G. F. Floyd Zimmerman, G. F. Garrison, Clarence A. Titus.
"Rev. M. Luther Stinson, Rev. Marvin Williams, Rev. Weston Bruner, P. T. Beavers, A. C. Minter, Dr. John S. Jenkins, J. P. Bonner, Dr. W. E. Davis, Rev. B. E. Jones, Dr. Carter Helm Jones, Marion M. Jackson, James Morton, Rev. W. J. DeBardleben, Dr. W. T. Himmitt, Dr. R. L. Russell, Rev. W. J. Culpepper, Rev. B. F. Fraser, William B. Algren, Rev. H. S. Allen, Marvin L. Throver, John A. Manget, Dr. W. H. Major.

"Rev. L. A. Griggs, Dr. Charles P. MacLaughlin, Rev. W. W. Memminger, Dr. W. H. Fust, B. F. Stevenson, Dr. C. R. Stauffer, E. Marvin Underwood, M. M. Davies, Rev. John Hall, Josiah T. Rose, Floyd Field, Dr. Plato T. Durham.
"Members of the district council present at the meeting Monday, December 12, 1927.

"Mrs. Julia O'Keefe Nelson, school commissioner from the sixth ward, took the floor in answer to the appeal, declaring that the board had deviated from recommendations of the administration department in at least three of the ward eight wards, and declared that the third ward had gotten more than its share of the bond allocation, while the sixth and eighth wards have received nothing.

"The sixth ward pays taxes on $92,000,000 worth of property, by far the largest tax of any ward in the city, and yet it has not received a single dollar of the bond money," she said. "The eighth ward is in the same predicament. No greater justice has been done negroes than the whites of certain sections."

Mrs. Nelson later succeeded in passing a proposal to provide $2,000 for improvements at Williams Street school. The resolution will be passed to the Atlanta bond commission for approval and will be placed in its regular order of consideration if the bond money already has not been spent after contracts for the projects already authorized have been let.

Delay Action on Pay.
Board action on the impending salary slash to avoid a deficit at the end of the year was deferred and will be taken up at a special called meeting to be held at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, December 20. At that time other matters relative to the financial operation of the school system for 1928 also will be considered.

In the meantime, members of city council, headed by Alderman Allen Couch, chairman of the school committee of council; Alderman Charles M. Ford, of the tenth ward, and Councilman W. E. Saunders, of the twelfth ward, are endeavoring to devise some means to prevent a cut in the salaries of employees of the system. A plan is expected to be offered to the finance committee at a meeting scheduled for Friday afternoon and it will be presented to city council Monday.

Commissioner George W. Powell, of the ninth ward, chairman of a special committee to compromise the account of William James, auditor, who made the audit of 1926 school books in compliance with a request of the citizens' advisory committee, recommended that the board pay another $800 to Mr. James. This represented a saving to the city of about $400, and brought the audit cost total to approximately $3,200. The board approved the committee's report, Commissioner W. D. Hoffman voting in the negative.

Appropriations Approved.

Requests for appropriations of $40,450 for purchase of a junior high school in the fifth ward and for a tract on which to erect what is known as the Southeast Grant Park school, respectively, were voted by the board. Mrs. Nelson opposed both proposals on the grounds that the sixth ward had not been cared for in distribution of the bond money. Mrs. E. Wilson, commissioner from the twelfth ward, obtained $5,000 for additional land at the Kirkwood school. All the measures seeking money allocations will go to the bond commission for approval and, if sanctioned there, will be passed to city council.

The equipment sheet recommended award of $24,993 worth of materials and supplies to the Baylis Office Equipment company and the Foote & Davies company on which it was reported by D. M. Therrell, commissioner of the board, was approved. Marshall company bid was low.

This action, it was said, was done in the interest of harmony, but it was reported Tuesday night that Ivan Allen, president of the company bearing his name, will insist on reconsideration. The board voted down a proposal to award the bids to the Allen-Marshall concern despite the recommendation of Mr. Therrell's committee.

The equipment list includes everything from pencils to desks, and every school in the entire system will benefit from the distribution of the articles purchased.

STATE RESTS CASE IN TRIAL OF HOOKS

Americus, Ga., December 13.—(AP)—After introducing testimony in an attempt to connect Sammy Hooks, prominent young Americus man, with an attempted criminal assault upon a society girl here last April, the state today rested its case in Hooks' trial.

The state sought to prove through fingerprint experts that Hooks was the "mysterious marauder" who, on a series of a dozen nightly raids, attempted assault upon as many prominent young women of Americus. The defense admitted that the fingerprints introduced by the state were Hooks', but claimed, and will present testimony to show, that those alleged to be found at the home of the particular young girl for whose attempted assault Hooks is on trial were fabricated by W. C. Dean, Macon fingerprint expert.

Dean was subjected to a strenuous grilling by defense attorneys on cross-examination, when he was recalled to the stand today to tell of employing the state today to tell of employing Dean on the case.

"These fingerprints given Dean were numbered only," the chief said, "and Dean could not have known from what person they were made."

Under cross-examination Chief Summers said Dean had attempted to "sell" Solicitor General Felton the fingerprint "evidence."

Captain E. O. Saunders, of Fort Benning, Ga., testified that he had qualified as a witness in over a hundred cases, and that in his opinion the fingerprints in question were taken from a base-board and could not have been fabricated.

The state submitted the fingerprints and a light globe from which one was taken, after which the state's case was rested.

RADIO-ING

The Air Waves.

BY WILL SMITH.

If the Seiberling Singers continue to give as charming a program as was broadcast Tuesday night, we are sure they will be welcomed each week by radio fans generally.

The Seiberling Singers, the latest N. B. C. chain feature to reach the south through WSB, was all too short, not too heavy to be a bore to the listener and not too frothy to become mediocre. It was arranged, it seems to the old Dial Twister, to appeal to the musical tastes of the masses.

Perfectly balanced orchestration featured the instrumental numbers while harmonies in numbers by the male chorists made an impression, we believe, on the radio audience that will not soon be forgotten. In fact, we know the numbers will live long in our memory if next week's program attains any similarity to the initial offering staged under the guiding hand of Marshall Bartholomew, who was assisted by Hans Barth and Channing Lefebvre, two well-known instrumental soloists.

We might mention each number of our new program sponsors offered during the half-hour's entertainment but if we did it would be but to repeat the words of commendation we are sure thousands of fans all over the country have heard in describing the concert to their friends who were so unfortunate as not to possess a radio receiving set.

Then, right on the heels of the Seiberling Singers came the Eveready hour, which, Tuesday night, was replete with well arranged instrumental and vocal numbers, interspersed with a clever monologue by Irving Cobb.

We rather enjoy Irving Cobb, notwithstanding the fact that his stories are hoary with age, for he has a way of putting them over that is particularly intriguing. We know he is fat, because he says so, but we would know it anyway for he wheezes—and, it's fascinating to wonder when the next wheeze is coming. (All of which was not an attempt to pun.)

Nevertheless, it was a downright good program and we enjoyed hearing Cobb in the role of master of ceremonies. The only thing we did not care for in the entire broadcast was the number played on the "gitar," as Mr. Cobb called it.

The mail continues to wax warm on the matter of program broadcasts, not only from our readers but from other sources as well. Tuesday's mail brought the Dial Twister an open letter addressed to Merlin Hall Aylesworth, president of the National Broadcasting company, by Gordon Whyte, associate editor of "Metronome," a prominent musical publication.

The missive is so very extensive that it would be impossible for us to give it to our readers in its entirety but we will attempt to publish it in installments, beginning Thursday. As it is published we would like to have your comments.

We also have Mr. Aylesworth's answer, which we intend to publish but before we do, see how close you can come to guessing the president of the National Broadcasting company's outsmarts Mr. Whyte. It is an open question and the more answers we get, the more help we will be to these two men who are striving for better music, each in his own way.

ALLEGED SLAYER IS GRANTED POND

E. F. Keheley, alleged slayer of Loren Lester, 12-year-old boy, who was fatally wounded Halloween night in front of Keheley's restaurant on Marietta street, was allowed to make bond of $5,000 Tuesday afternoon following a hearing before Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy.

The condition of Keheley's health formed the basis of the plea for release on bond. Assistant Solicitor General Ed A. Stephens asked Dr. W. W. Etheridge, Keheley's family physician, to count Keheley's pulse and take his temperature in court. Dr. Etheridge said that Keheley's pulse beat was 104, or well above the normal, and that his temperature was four-fifths of a degree above normal. The defense contended that Keheley had been under a physician's care for some time and that he had grown worse since being placed in jail.

Rain Threats, High Mercury Readings Here

Possible rains throughout the day, accompanied by continued high temperatures which are expected to fall rapidly to warms night, is the weather menu for Atlanta and vicinity today, according to officials at the United States weather station.

Rains are slated to pervade the entire northern portion of Georgia while lighter clouds will cover the southern sections.

Today the thermometer indicator climbed from a low of 60 degrees to the 70-degree maximum. A similar range is predicted for today before the rains start a cooler trend, the weatherman said.

SOUTHERN SURGEONS CONVEINE IN AUGUSTA

Augusta, Ga., December 13.—(P)—The fourth annual convention of the Southern Surgical association convened at the Bon Air-Vanderbilt hotel here this morning with a number of the leading surgeons of the country among the 240 present. The convention will be in session three days.

Dr. Charles H. Mayo, one of the two famous brothers who head the nationally-known Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn., arrived in Augusta this morning. Dr. Mayo will give an address Thursday morning on "Colostomy, Temporary and Permanent."

Dr. Ernest Sackler, of St. Louis; Harry H. Kerr, of Washington, D. C.; Charles E. Downman, of Atlanta; Claude C. Coleman, of Richmond, Va.; Charles E. Bagley, Jr., of Baltimore, and Donald Munro, Boston, featured the morning session of the surgeons' convention. The session adjourned at 12 o'clock for lunch and no business was scheduled to be conducted during the afternoon, a round of entertainment was on the program. A golf tournament, with several handsome prizes offered to the winners and runners-up, was scheduled to be held early this afternoon. An automobile ride throughout the city and surrounding territory was on the program for those not interested in golf. A tea will be given the wives and daughters of the surgeons who are here at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the Country club.

The crowning social event of the convention will be the banquet to be held at the Bon Air-Vanderbilt Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. On this occasion which follows the address in the afternoon of Dr. Guy L. Hunner, president of the association, an outstanding address on the diseases of women, and Edgar L. Gilcrest, of San Francisco, will deliver the dinner address on "Lord Lister, the Man and His Achievements."

3,000 AIRPLANES NEEDED FOR 1928, SAYS C. M. KEYS
Chicago, December 13.—(P)—The period in American industry known as the "survival of the fittest" is at hand in the airplane manufacturers' business, declared C. M. Keys, president of the Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor company.

Speaking tonight before the Illinois Manufacturers' association "aviation industry," a feature of the National Airports conference, Keys said he believed the losses in 1928 will equal at least half the capital invested.

Something like 3,000 planes will be required next year, he predicted, and to supply these two or three big companies are firmly established; a dozen others are hanging on "with difficulty, and at least 50 more want to get in."

Construction Work Sarts On Rome's New Landing Field

Rome, Ga., December 13.—(Special.)—Development of Rome's airport has gotten away to a "flying" start this week with beginning of actual construction Monday at Nungesser-Coll field to put the present "emergency" field in the grade "B" classification. A luncheon was held today at the Forrest hotel at which the airways extension superintendent of the department of commerce and several noted flyers of the south were present to consider with a committee from the chamber of commerce plans of that organization to make Rome's airport one of the finest in the country.

J. E. Somers, airways extension superintendent of the department of commerce, had been directed to visit Rome, the chamber of commerce was advised in a telegram Saturday from Washington, and plans for the luncheon were made on receipt of the telegram. Doug Davis, who has charge of Candler field in Atlanta; R. C. Atrop, local pilot, and other southern flyers were present at the luncheon.

A committee of 17 active members of the chamber of commerce, appointed Saturday by President Wilson M. Hardy to have charge of the development of the airport, were in charge of the luncheon Tuesday. It has been pointed out that Rome has an excellently located flying field near the city, and it is the ambition of the chamber of commerce to make it one of the best fields in the country.

Improvements of the local flying field will include the construction of a hangar of a size sufficient for 10 planes at one time, the construction of two 150-foot runways 100 feet wide and grading and draining the field. Options held by the chamber of commerce for the purchase of adjoining property will be exercised under plans now being worked out by that organization. Facilities for fueling airplanes and making necessary repairs are also included in the plans of improvement, in addition to the construction of the hangar. When the work has been completed the field will be suitable for landing and taking off by the largest government planes.

Leo C. Wilson, airplane engine inspector of the aeronautics branch of the department of commerce, who inspected the field on a visit here last September, stated that it was excellently located both from the point of view of the lay of the land and the nearness to the city.

CHEST AID IS GIVEN 12,610 IN OCTOBER

Service of the Community Chest and its 35 social welfare agencies to the public of Atlanta was shown by the record of 12,610 cases handled by their workers in the month of October, according to a report yesterday by Frank Miller, service secretary of the Chest.

In this work the organization touched every aspect of the city's life, according to the report, and made material progress toward solving its problems of disease prevention, of youthful delinquency, of shelter for the homeless child and relief for the poor and oppressed, as well as performing an important work in the "character-forming group."

Increase of effectiveness and reduction of expense in charity administration, the main objectives of the Chest, were observed, Mr. Miller reported in the following statement:

"Since April the service department of the Community Chest, the social welfare agencies giving relief and service, and the child-caring societies and institutions have had weekly conferences to bring about a better understanding and more effective service in their coordinated work. The effort has been increasingly successful."

"This cooperative work has been productive of economy both in service and money. Beyond emergency relief the giving of a dollar without a plan is wasteful. This waste can be and is prevented by 'case-work' conferences."

"The agencies making constantly reports show that during October seven relief and service societies cared for 5,516 families and individuals, and eight child-caring societies cared for 648 children. This means that each worker has shouldered the heavy load of 102.2 families and individuals. The social service department has cleared 679 cases in October, thus materially assisting the agencies in preventing duplication and reducing the cost of service."

The Community Chest, lacking $40,000 of the $500,000 fund declared necessary for effective operation of its agencies in 1928, has undertaken by appeal to former subscribers and the public generally to make up the deficit and thus to defeat the menace of suffering and unrelieved want in Atlanta next year.

STATE HEALTH DATA WINS U. S. APPROVAL

Georgia will be admitted to the registration area of the bureau of census, Dr. T. F. Abernethy, commissioner of health, announced Tuesday, following an examination of Georgia's vital statistics records by examining officers of the bureau.

"The tests," Dr. Abernethy was informed, "showed that practically all births and deaths occurring in the state are registered."

The vital statistics of a state are not accepted by the outside world unless these figures are shown in the federal government's annual reports, Dr. Abernethy said.

"These records," he explained, "are of value to the individual in proving age, citizenship, identity and legal rights, and in the settlement of estates, insurance claims, etc."

"Although Georgia has been admitted to the registration area," Dr. Abernethy continued, "it does not mean that we should relax our efforts in securing registration, for, in a future test it is shown that our registration does not come up to the standard, the state will be dropped from the area."

EXCHANGE CLUB CALLS ON COUNCIL TO PAY TEACHERS

A resolution calling on the mayor and general council to find some method of paying teachers of Atlanta public schools their December salaries without a cut, was adopted by members of the Exchange club, at the regular meeting Tuesday, in the Henry Grady hotel, it was reported.

The action followed an address by J. P. Barron, president of the Atlanta School Teachers' association. Mr. Barron stated that "although Atlanta has 2,000 more pupils this year than it had last year in the public schools, the number of teachers has been reduced by 150."

"The city is allowing the minimum of 26 per cent of its total revenue called in the charter for maintenance of the schools. It faces a deficit in meeting the December teachers' payroll of $22,000. Atlanta teachers are paid from 10 to 32 per cent less than teachers of other cities having a population of 100,000 or more."

Featuring the entertainment program was the Big Bethel choir, which presented negro spirituals under direction of Nellie Davis.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. B. K. Vann, president.

TECH HIGH BAND GIVING CONCERTS AT SEARS, ROEBUCK

Tech High school band gave its first series of concerts at Sears, Roebuck & Co. Monday evening. The entire 52-piece band was present under the personal direction of Major Woodward, and rendered a number of popular and classical selections.

Major Woodward said: "We want everyone in Atlanta to hear this fine aggregation of young musicians because it is a musical organization that rates second to none in the country and deserves the support and encouragement of this city."

The band will give nightly concerts from 7 until 9 o'clock at the Sears, Roebuck & Co. retail store for the remainder of this week and all next week. The first part of the program is given outdoors in the big parking lot by the Christmas tree, weather permitting, and the second part in the toy section.

Major Woodward and the Parent-Teacher association of Tech High school have arranged this series of concerts as a compliment to L. H. Beall and C. M. Lafferty, who so generously donated the uniforms for the entire ensemble.

Used Billiard Cue As Assault Weapon, Indictment Charges

A billiard cue becomes a dangerous weapon when turned from the prosaic propelling of the cue ball into a mauling club, the Fulton county grand jury decided Tuesday in returning indictments charging assault with intent to murder against George Roberson and Joseph Maness.

Roberson and Maness are charged in the true bill with beating, striking and wounding A. Russ, of 127 Pine street, N. E., with a billiard cue and a meat cleaver on December 8.

SHE KNOWS BEST

Your wife is right about the Steinway

Your wife is the true maker of your home, and she is right in asking that her piano be, if possible, a Steinway.

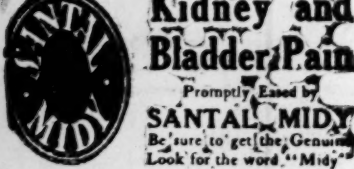

She has more than the judgment of the world's supreme musicians to guide her in this. She has the ripened judgment of most discriminating women who preside over the thoughtfully-equipped homes of the land.

The Steinway piano has much more than the simple approval of these serious home-makers. It has their deep-founded love. It is doubtful if any other manufactured article inspires the positive love of its owner as does a well-made musical instrument—above all, a Steinway piano.

Probe of Mexican Documents Is Asked in Senate

Washington, December 13.—(AP.)—An exhaustive senate investigation of the authenticity of all purported documents of the Mexican government published in facsimile by the Hearst papers, rather than just the inquiry ordered into similar published charges that the Calles administration authorized payments to four United States senators was asked today by Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri.

The move, however, met opposition from the chairman of the special committee, Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, at whose request the inquiry into the senatorial phase of the situation was instituted. A comprehensive investigation, he said, would involve the relations of the United States and Mexico and its advisability should be determined by the foreign relations committee. Upon his motion, this was done.

While secrecy is still being maintained as to witnesses and procedure, Chairman Reed of the special committee confirmed that Dudley Field Malone, New York attorney, had been summoned to testify.

CREDIT MEN HEAR SUTTON ADDRESS ON TUESDAY NIGHT

Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of Atlanta's school system, was principal speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Atlanta Association of Credit Men Tuesday night at the Atlanta Athletic club. Mr. Sutton spoke on "Importance of Character With Respect to Credit." He was introduced by W. C. Lovejoy, president of the association.

Following Mr. Sutton's talk, Oscar Venable gave a short talk on "Good Will as an Asset." Several other members of the club also spoke briefly. An interesting radio stunt was performed by Don Davis, local radio enthusiast, as a feature of the meeting.

It was announced that S. I. Miller, newly elected national secretary of the association, will be honor guest and principal speaker at a meeting of the association on January 18. It will be a joint meeting of the retail credit men's association and the American institute of banking.

Mr. Miller will attend the annual tri-state convention of the association, which will be held in Macon on January 19.

NAPIER TO RETURN FROM BUSINESS TRIP

Attorney General George M. Napier will return Thursday from New York where he went to attend a meeting of a special committee of the American Bar association of which he is a member. JARDINE REMOVAL URGED BY HEFLIN

Washington, December 13.—(AP.)—Resignation of Secretary Jardine and Lloyd S. Tenny, of the bureau of economics in the department of agriculture, was demanded in the senate today by Senator Heflin, democrat, Alabama, because of the break in cotton prices recently following issuance of a department price estimate.

Senator Heflin said he believed Tenny "got money for the betrayal of the cotton producers."

"I so informed Mr. Jardine," he added, "Jardine is sitting and abetting the Wall Street gamblers who are robbing the people of my country."

Senator Smith, democrat, South Carolina, also deplored the department's cotton report and insisted that Mr. Jardine must be held responsible for it "although I verily believe he knew nothing about it until his attention was called to it later."

FIGHT FARM LOAN BOARD APPOINTMENTS.

Washington, December 13.—(AP.)—The contest against the appointment of Eugene Meyer and his two associates of the extinct War Finance corporation as members of the federal farm loan board was begun in the senate today by Senator Fletcher, democrat, Florida, who demanded an inquiry before confirmation is asked of their nominations.

George R. Cooksey and Floyd R. Harrison were named with Meyer to the farm board last June upon the senate's ratification of three members. Senator Fletcher declared President Coolidge asked for their resignations.

RETURN TO GEORGIA OF FAKE "OCULIST" ASKED BY VICTIMS

Sparta, Ga., December 13.—(Special.)—Although Chief of Police Boone has received no further information from the state police department at Monroe, N. Y., regarding the fake "eye doctor" held there for perpetrating frauds on people in New York state that he practiced on David Dickson of this county and John Chapman, of Warren, both victims have consulted attorneys and will make every effort to bring "Dr." Simon H. Mohr back here for trial.

The attorneys are now in correspondence with the state police at Monroe, N. Y., and hope to be allowed to bring Mohr here for trial before he is given a gang sentence in that state. Dickson and Chapman say they gave Mohr, identified by his picture, $1,550 for two pairs of diamond spectacles, and they are both anxious to bring the alleged faker back here for trial.

COMMISSIONERS ARE PAID TRIBUTE BY SCHOOL BOARD

Members of the Atlanta board of education Tuesday paid tribute to the service of D. M. Therrell, school commissioner from the seventh ward, and W. D. Hoffman, of the eighth ward, whose terms ended with the December meeting.

Action of the board followed a motion by George Powell, of the ninth ward, that they be given an award of thanks and it was passed unanimously.

"The board will feel keenly the loss of both Mr. Therrell and Mr. Hoffman, and I feel that we should take this step in a meager effort to show our appreciation for their services," Mr. Powell said in offering his motion.

W. W. Gaines, of the third ward; Roy D. Warren, of the tenth, and Jim W. Maddox, of the fifth, seconded the motion.

Mr. Therrell will be succeeded after January 1 by Dr. M. M. Burns and John T. Hancock will succeed Mr. Hoffman.

EDWARDS TO ADDRESS LOCAL MASONIC CLUB

DAY'S CONNECTED WITH OIL SCANDAL

Washington, December 13.—(AP.)—Speeding up its presentation of testimony in the criminal contempt proceedings against Harry F. Sinclair, William J. Burns and his associates, the government today presented evidence that Henry Mason Day, one of those under accusation, had personally investigated a mortgage on the home of John P. Kern, a juror in the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy case.

On top of this came other testimony calculated by the government to show that Mark Thompson, attorney for Albert B. Fall, who, as secretary of the interior, leased Teapot Dome to Sinclair, knew of the jury shadowing by Burns detectives. This testimony was given by Dan M. Jackson, an attorney in the department of justice.

While these angles of the case were being presented the senate passed a bill by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, intended to change the statute of limitations in government fraud cases from six to three years. Under this alteration it was believed M. T. Everhart, son-in-law of Fall, alleged to have delivered $250,000 in Liberty bonds to Fall, could testify without fear of prosecution.

Robert C. Dove, real estate agent, appearing as government witness, said he had secured for Day, at the latter's request, information showing that there was a $4,000 mortgage on the home of John P. Kern, an oil trial juror.

BIG NAVY PROGRAM PROPOSED FOR U. S.

Washington, December 13.—(AP.)—The administration is about to ask congress for a five-year naval building program which some navy officers estimate will cost about $1,000,000,000.

The bill containing the program has been approved by the Secretary of the Navy Wilbur and is now being examined at the budget bureau, after which it will be introduced in congress.

President Coolidge has not approved the program, the white house said. It was said that the president also conferred with Rear Admiral Hilary Jones, American naval delegate at the Geneva arms conference.

The new program would authorize either three or five new airplane carriers, possibly 20 or 25 cruisers, and a number of destroyers and submarines. Officials would not definitely disclose the tonnage to be asked until the bill is finally approved because of possible changes by the budget bureau. No battleship replacements will be asked, it was said.

Rumors of the new navy building program caused much speculation in congress and some house leaders indicated they are opposed to embarking upon a large authorized program at this time.

"A billion dollars is a lot of money," said Chairman Madden, of the house appropriations committee. "We have passed the stage of billion-dollar contracts unless we are faced with another war."

"I'm against anything that would stagger the country," said Chairman Hutter, of the house naval affairs committee, who said that the bill designed to lessen the burden of residents of the Sacramento valley in California in financing the present method of leveeing the flood waters of that river in check.

The bill calls for a division of the cost into one-third shares by the federal government, the state of California and local landholders.

AIR CIRCUS PLANES LAND LATE TUESDAY

Two airplanes, connected with an airplane circus, arrived in Atlanta about 6:30 o'clock Tuesday night and, although the landing at Candler field was not so easy, both landed safely, without the use of lights.

Residents in the vicinity of Hapeville heard the planes several minutes before they landed and thought them to be Lindbergh's plane, forced down, without the use of lights.

One of the planes was piloted by Frank M. Ward, a nephew of the famous Jimmy Ward, one of the first to fly a plane over American soil. He has been a pilot for the past four years, piloting Mable Cody's private plane for the past two years. Mable Cody is one of the best known "stunt" fliers in the country.

Law To Regulate Divorces in U. S. Asked by Women

Washington, December 13.—(United News.)—Aroused by the increasing number of divorces in the United States and the great number of ill-advised marriages they disclose, the organized women of the nation are preparing to renew their demand that congress approve the constitutional amendment which would authorize a uniform federal marriage and divorce law.

Contradictory and inadequate marriage and divorce laws are blamed for the mounting divorce rate and the great number of marriages by young girls and boys and other persons who should not be permitted to marry. It is pointed out that there are 49 varieties of marriage laws, a different set for each state and the District of Columbia, and 48 varieties of divorce laws, one state, South Carolina, not permitting divorce on any grounds.

A resolution for a constitutional amendment, which is necessary before congress can enact a federal law, has been introduced in the house by Representative McLeod, Michigan, republican, and Senator Capper, Kansas, republican, intends to reintroduce his resolution in the senate.

Discrepancies between the requirements of the divorce laws in the various states presents a serious problem, the women believe.

NEGRO FLOOD VICTIMS ASK RED CROSS HELP

Washington, December 13.—(AP.)—Misinterpretation of the aims of the Red Cross has resulted in inequality and discrimination in administering to the needs of negro flood sufferers in sections of the devastated area along the Mississippi, the colored aid society commission today informed Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Vice Chairman James L. Fieser, of the American Red Cross.

The commission reported that in many places the relief work has been carried out splendidly and with impartiality as to race, but added that there were sections in the flood area where the negroes were suffering because of local conditions.

Secretary Hoover and Fieser will visit the flood territory late this week.

HOUSE GETS CALIFORNIA FLOOD COST BILL

Washington, December 13.—(AP.)—The house flood control committee today took under consideration a bill designed to lessen the burden of residents of the Sacramento valley in California in financing the present method of leveeing the flood waters of that river in check.

The bill calls for a division of the cost into one-third shares by the federal government, the state of California and local landholders.

DALLAS GOVERNOR PLANNING DEFENSE

Dallas, Texas, December 13.—(AP.)—Directors of the Dallas Federal Reserve bank, meeting in executive session today, continued to hear testimony of bankers disaffiliated with the administration of Lynn P. Talley, governor of the institution.

The meeting, which began yesterday morning with more than 100 bankers present, tonight had dwindled down to less than 50. There are still about 25 witnesses scheduled to air their grievances before the board. Governor Talley will offer several witnesses and he himself will testify before the hearing is adjourned, it was said. It was reported that Governor Talley's witnesses would thoroughly analyze the policy of the Dallas reserve bank and endeavor to show why the policy should prevail.

Tremendous losses which the Dallas bank is said to have sustained before Governor Talley's policies were inaugurated will in all probability be brought out at the hearing. Among these, it is said, will be shown a loss of $500,000 at Cleburne, Texas, due to bank failures. His supporters are expected to testify that immediately after the world war loans of the Dallas bank totaled approximately $120,000,000 and that the judgment of the present governor has reduced this amount to a much safer figure.

The desire of small banks to borrow from the Dallas bank at 3 1/2 per cent and redeem the same money at 10 per cent also will be testified to in behalf of Governor Talley, it was said.

Plan to Continue Fight.

Dallas, Texas, December 13.—(AP.)—Possible ways of continuing the fight against the policies followed by the Dallas Federal Reserve bank under the direction of Lynn P. Talley, governor, should the decision of the board of directors at the present hearing be adverse to them, were considered today by a number of Texas bankers as the hearing reopened for the second day behind closed doors.

At a caucus of dissatisfied members of the board, it was made known that congressional investigation of the administration of the bank's policies be asked, if necessary.

Governor Talley today refused to confirm or deny a report that the suggestion had been made that he resign early next year. He merely referred to the statement of C. C. Walsh, chairman of the board, yesterday, that no reports of the developments would be given out or discussed until the board had made its decision.

GERMAN TOY MAKERS' BUSINESS INCREASING

Berlin, December 13.—(United News.)—German toy manufacturers, having benefited by this year's industrial boom, expect many visits from Santa Claus this Christmas. Although not approximating pre-war figures, exports are expected to be 8 to 10 per cent higher than last year, with a 10 to 20 per cent increase of sales in the German market.

'Beef Boycott' In Boston May Reach New York

New York, December 13.—(United News.)—Boston's "beef boycott" threatens to spread to New York and perhaps other cities, as prices of beefsteaks continue to show signs of mounting.

What makes a beefsteak high-priced remains an unexplained mystery after a canvass of New York markets, during which butchers agreed that beef had been "out of sight" since October but were at loss to fix the reason.

Some of the smaller butchers scratched their heads and said maybe there was a shortage of cattle. Chicken and turkeys, formerly luxuries in the meat line, have become staples as a result of present beef prices, retailers said.

DEALERS DENY CHARGES; BOYCOTT GROWS.

Boston, December 13.—(United News.)—Denial that current beef prices had enabled them to realize huge profits was made by several of Boston's leading meat dealers today as an offset to the "beef boycott" by housewives and hotel men.

They pointed to George Clark, secretary of the city of Boston Hotel association, comprising about 150 hotels and restaurants.

Pensacola Votes Bonds.

Pensacola, Fla., December 13.—(AP.) Free holders of Pensacola today voted $225,000 in improvement bonds.

The Woman in the Case

BY LOUIS TRACY

SYNOPSIS.

John Arden, returning to his rooms at the Park Palace hotel, London, in the early hours of the morning, breaks his key in the lock and is given a room in a luxurious suite by the night watchman who assures him that the rooms are unoccupied. He is about to retire when two women enter the apartment. One is addressed as Esme and the other as Mrs. Sinclair. Arden, hiding, hears them speak of the sudden death of Lord Farndale. Without being observed he lets himself out of the apartment. The next morning he reads of the mysterious death of a peer. A little later he sees Esme on the street and is not far from her when she is knocked down by a motorcycle. Her dress is torn and he offers her his raincoat. She accepts it and he offers to get her a taxi, telling her that they live in the same hotel. Later Arden learns that the police know the identity of the two women who visited Lord Farndale but cannot locate them. They watch the railway terminals. Arden sees Esme at one of the stations and behind Mrs. Sinclair's back takes her away with him to avoid arrest. Mrs. Sinclair, in fear of being detained as a material witness was about to cross over to Paris with Esme. Arden takes the girl to the rooms of his friend, Andy Burke, who turns the apartment and his housekeeping over to her. Burke is invited to share Jimmie Davidson's rooms for the night. Before leaving Andy's apartment the three friends and Detective Furneaux of Scotland Yard, who has joined them, hold a conference in Esme's behalf.

On leaving Furneaux suggests to Arden that he call on Mrs. Sinclair, who is back at the Park Palace hotel, before going to bed. He does so, but gains little information except a glance at Mrs. Sinclair's friend, Juan de Braganza, who claims to be Esme's husband.

INSTALLMENT XXI. A PROBLEM.

Arden was so careful neither to be late nor be seen leaving the hotel by the two people he wanted to avoid that he reached the Jermyn street flat five minutes before time. Consequently he had a brief but most heartening chat with Esme. She was all smiles this morning. She even apologized prettily for sending him away the preceding night without a word of thanks for all he had done for her.

"Of course, these are Mr. Burke's rooms, and Mrs. O'Callaghan is a dear," she said, "but I wouldn't have been here if it were not for you. How wonderful that you should have stepped in at the right moment and saved me from the nasty experience of being taken away by a policeman! I was too tired even to think last night, and was asleep 10 minutes after you and your friends went out, but my wits, such as they are, have been working busily since Mrs. O'Callaghan brought me a lovely cup of tea at 8 o'clock. There is one thing I may say to you, and you can please yourself about mentioning it to the others—I have very little money, I cannot remain here indefinitely, and I refuse to live on charity. Obviously, I have three courses open. I can go back to Mrs. Sinclair, find work in London, or get some lawyer to look into my affairs in case Mrs. Sinclair has any funds of mine which can be made immediately available. You see, I know nothing, absolutely nothing, about my dear father's means. I know he owned our house and furniture, and we always lived agreeably if without any lavish display. But Mrs. Sinclair told me not to worry about finances, and I just didn't. It was foolish, of course, but the present position is not altered because I took for granted everything she said, is it?"

Now, Esme's rather breathless explanation might have warned Arden that she was far more nervous than she seemed, but he, good youth, being a thoroughly single minded person and having persuaded himself that this delightful girl might possibly have been fashioned by a kindly Providence for his special benefit and delectation, was wrestling with one problem to the exclusion of all else—Should he tell of his overnight visit to Mrs. Sinclair? He wondered how Furneaux would act in like circumstances. Would the little detective's philosophy of means forbid? Breakfast was imminent, as certain sounds and pleasant odors coming from the kitchen announced—so why spoil Esme's appetite by describing her so-called guardian's uncompromising attitude, with its theatrical sequel in the arrival of Juan de Braganza?

Luckily the opening of an outer door heralded other members of the party. So Arden took a chance.

"I met Mrs. Sinclair last night," he murmured rapidly. "Furneaux sent me to see her. We had a long and most disagreeable talk, but you will hear all about it later, as I've got to report."

Andy came in, with Davidson and Furneaux. The little man was easily the dandy of the four. His hat, tie, shirt, suit, socks, and boots formed a perfect color scheme.

"He-he-he," he chuckled, on catching sight of Arden. "Didn't I tell you last night you would be on time this morning?"

"Many minutes ahead of time," said

Arden, severely. "Not a respectable clock in St. James' has chimed the half hour yet."

Arden reddened. He feared lest Esme should draw certain conclusions from the chaffing comments and retire into her shell even more completely than on the previous evening. But, if she heard, she gave no heed.

"Mr. Arden has just said that you asked him to call on Mrs. Sinclair," she announced, meeting Furneaux's always mocking eyes fearlessly. "Was it you who said that? Did you want her to confirm or refute my story?"

Instantly the detective grew serious. "If anything of that sort was in my mind, Miss Esme, I would not be here now," he assured her. "We cannot ignore the lady. We must know on which side of the fence she means to alight. My stupid idea was that a heavy handed blunderer like our young friend, John Arden, might irritate her into saying something definite. Did she?"

"He has not told me a word yet," Esme said, and worse, just blurted out enough to arouse your curiosity without saying it. Well, well! Here comes Mrs. O'Callaghan with a laden tray. The top of the morning to you, ma'am! By electric light or in the rays of the sun you look just the same, which is more than can be said for the thousand fair women living within a mile of this very spot."

Mrs. O'Callaghan set down the tray. "Misther Burke, there's kidneys an' bacon in that dish, an' sossidges in the other. I've med coffee, not if any of you 'ud rather have tave just say the word. Would any one fancy a boiled egg?"

"If I may mention the fact without risk of being misunderstood, there are few things I would enjoy more than an egg boiled by you," squeaked Furneaux.

"Please, I'll have one, too," put in Esme, the housekeeper hurried off. The detective had made it clear already that Mrs. Sinclair and her wiles were taboo during the meal, and Andy helped with some ridiculous story about a bishop who had gone for a ride and forgot to remove his spurs, when he attended a diocesan conference. When he had scarified a lord lieutenant's shins and lacerated a dean during an excited speech some layman, greatly daring, alluded to him as game old bird, proceedings which secured that particular conference much prominence in the newspapers.

After that there was difficulty. Time was pressing, however, so Furneaux would not even wait for the crockery to be taken away, but asked Arden for his memorandum. He glanced through it once rapidly, and then read it with great care.

"Splendid!" he said, at last. "Now we have the lady's measure. She has been in this plot with Juan de Braganza for a year or more, and has not the least intention of throwing him over. You must be prepared for a hard fight, Miss Esme. Don't dream of stirring out of this flat today. I shall try and drop in about tea time, and then the committee must consider ways and means. Friends you have, but you also need money, I imagine, and inquiries must be pushed at Buenos Aires by cable. No matter what happens, remain here. That right, Mr. Burke?"

"Faith, it is," said Andy. "And more than that—we three between us picked up a small parcel from a book-maker yesterday—250 pounds in all—and I vote now that the said amount constitutes the nucleus of the Esme Bernome relief fund."

"Agreed," said Davidson.

"I'll double it if necessary," said Arden.

Furneaux glanced at Esme. Her eyes were full of tears.

"I must be off," he cried. "If Mrs. O'Callaghan comes in and finds you weeping she'll assault me with a frying pan!"

AL SMITH SEEN CHOICE BY BONE

Prediction that Al Smith would be the democratic presidential nominee to run against either Herbert Hoover or Charles G. Dawes, as the republican choice, was voiced Tuesday by Scott C. Bone, former governor of Alaska, former publicity director of the republican national committee, newspaper editor and one of the outstanding political authorities of the generation, who was in Atlanta Tuesday.

Mr. Bone, retired from active participation in journalism and politics, stopped in Atlanta en route to his California home as the guest of James B. Nevin, editor of the Atlanta Georgian, who was associated with Mr. Bone in the publication of the Washington Herald, which Mr. Bone founded.

Mr. Bone stated that he based his prediction on observation of conditions extant in sections he recently has visited.

"I had not believed that Al Smith could be nominated," he said, "but developments and the situation generally lead me now to believe he is to be the democratic nominee."

"As to the republicans, it seems to me that the nomination lies between V. e. President Dawes and Mr. Hoover. I regard Mr. Hoover, whom I know by many close contacts, as a constructive genius."

Mr. Bone was greeted by the Atlanta press and other prominent Atlantans at luncheon at the Capital City club, where he was a guest of Mr. Nevin.

HAMMER SLAYER TO DEMAND BAIL

Painesville, Ohio, December 13.—(P)—While Velma West, hammer slayer, sat in her cell today, her attorneys were busy gathering evidence to support a habeas corpus motion to free her on bond pending action by the January grand jury.

Francis W. Poulson, Mrs. West's chief counsel, had indicated he would file the habeas corpus action today, but deferred it pending the rounding up of evidence to support his claims that Mrs. West killed her husband, T. Edward West, with a claw hammer "in a fit of fury," over his objection to her attending a bridge party in Cleveland.

Poulson announced he would base his claim for bond on the fact there was no premeditation in the killing. County Prosecutor Seth Paulin said today he would not call a special grand jury unless the habeas corpus action is filed. A special session, Paulin said, would thwart plans of the defense to make public the confession signed by Mrs. West after killing, only parts of which have been revealed.

CIGARETTE CASE UPHELD BY STATE APPEALS COURT

The court of appeals Tuesday handed down a decision upholding the recent action of Judge Owen Persons, of the Flint circuit, in assessing a fine for contempt of court on a defendant who sent a carton of cigarettes to members of the jury trying his case in the Butts county superior court.

In the case J. B. Mays, a defendant in a civil suit, was fined $100 for contempt of court by Judge Persons. J. S. Thurston, the court bailiff, who carried the cigarettes to the jurors, was discharged by Judge Persons for his part in the affair.

Steel Board Refuses Statement on Result Of Deliberations

New York, December 13.—(P)—The finance committee of the United States Steel corporation met in lengthy session today, but declined to make public the outcome of its deliberations other than the bare announcement that "routine business" had been transacted.

Expectations that a chairman of the committee might be elected failed of materialization and the corporation continues without a successor to the late Elbert H. Gary as chairman of the board of directors and of the finance committee.

BIRMINGHAM MAN TO HEAD SOUTHERN STOVE BUILDERS

All of the real and personal property of the late W. W. Orr, president of the George W. Orr Clothing company, who died suddenly Thursday morning, is bequeathed to his mother, the late Mrs. Sarah A. Orr, and a sister, Mrs. Alice Orr Miller, of Atlanta. It was learned Tuesday when Mr. Orr's will was filed in the office of the Fulton county ordinary for probate. The portion left to Mr. Orr's mother will be divided equally between his sisters and brothers, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. E. E. McCray, of Kendallville, Ind.; E. C. Orr, of Fort Valley, and E. R. ## Mrs. Brantley Is Urged for Post On National Body

Waycross, Ga., December 13.—(Special).—Mrs. A. P. Brantley, of Blackshear, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, has been nominated and endorsed unanimously by the Georgians club of Waycross and by the Girl Scouts council of Waycross for directors in the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Brantley is concluding next May four and a half years as state president. So constructive and so efficient has been this administration that the Waycross clubs, both members of the federation, feel that she merits by these achievements a place and position in the national work.

During the past four years the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs has gained recognition in the national conventions for the business-like handling of all its work. The departments have been systematized and coordinated, enabling each department to do its best work without in any manner interfering with the work of another department.

FAMILIES DRIVEN FROM ARKANSAS HOMES BY FLOOD

Fort Smith, Ark., December 13.—(P)—Heavy rains which shattered all records here for a 24-hour period flooded Fort Smith streets today, drove several families from their homes and brought boats into use in some sections of the city. ## G. O. P. BEGUILÉS SENATE 'REBELS'

Washington, December 13.—(P)—Control of the standing committees of the senate was won today by the slim republican majority without even a roll call.

Republicans were twitted by Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, for their "change of front toward the radicals."

Senator Harrison inquired if there had been some "trades," calling attention to the new committees slates provided a chairmanship for Senator Frazier, North Dakota, one of the four read out of the republican party for supporting the presidential candidacy of Senator La Follette.

"Have these western radicals been bought by promotions in committees?" the Mississippian asked. "Rumors have it that because of these promotions you may soon support for reelection Senator Moses, of New Hampshire, for president pro tempore; Edward Thayer for secretary; and David Barry for sergeant-at-arms."

Senator Curtis, the republican leader, replied that no promises whatever had been made to the progressive group of senators.

"Every senator knows that he can have a vote on any bill that he brings up here on the floor of the senate," he said.

HARTWELL DOCTOR GIVEN 3-YEAR TERM IN NARCOTIC CASE

Athens, Ga., December 13.—(Special).—Dr. A. P. Hanie, of Hartwell, indicted in 1924 for violation of the Harrison narcotic act, was tried in United States district court here, found guilty and sentenced to serve three years in the Atlanta federal penitentiary. Wardlaw, recently with the Near East relief, New York city, and formerly on the faculty of the State Normal school, Athens, has been elected head of the department of home study at the University of Georgia to succeed Dr. George A. H. T. Coggins, who holds a master of science from Emory university, was elected an instructor in the chemistry department.

These appointments were made by the prudential committee of the board of trustees at the same time that Dr. Alfred Scott, professor of chemistry in the University of Georgia, was named head of that department to succeed Dr. Henry Clay White, who died a few weeks ago, after having been on the university faculty for 55 years.

INDUSTRY COMING TO SOUTH, NEWELL TELLS ROTARIANS

The notable trend of commerce and industry is southward and, since this transition cannot be halted, the city whose chamber of commerce is most developed will be the one to receive the greatest expansion, Alfred Newell, national councillor to the United States Chamber of Commerce from the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, told members of the Atlanta Rotary club at the meeting Tuesday in the Capital City club.

The occasion marked observation of "Chamber of Commerce day" with officers and directors of the local chamber as guests of honor at the Rotary luncheon. Mr. Newell discussed the effects of chamber developments throughout the nation and the cooperation of the national chamber. "Whether we will it or not," Mr. Newell asserted, "a town is gauged by its chamber of commerce."

George West, president of the local chamber, gave a brief outline of the organization's activities and introduced the other speakers. Dr. Herbert Kennedy, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, explained the work of that branch.

Vocal selections by Jimmy Calhoun, accompanied by Miss Helen Battle, featured the entertainment program. President Robert L. Foreman presided at Hartwell.

MAT IMPRESARIO INJURED IN CRASH

Greenville, S. C., December 13.—(Special).—John Contos, well-known wrestling promoter of Atlanta, lies with a dislocated shoulder in the city hospital here and Paul Jones, wrestler, of Austin, Texas; Jask Rowland, of Philadelphia, and Clarence Nixon, of The Atlanta Constitution, are suffering with bruises and minor cuts as the result of an automobile accident 15 miles west of this city at 6:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The party was on its way from Atlanta to Charlotte to witness a wrestling match in the latter city.

The accident is said to have been caused when Contos, who was at the wheel, attempted to avoid striking a group of people who had gathered in the road, and went over a culvert at the side of the highway. The car turned a somersault and was completely demolished.

Contos and the rest of the party were brought to Greenville where they received medical attention. All save Contos received but slight injuries. The seriousness of the latter's injuries has not yet been determined.

The car in which the party was riding was said to have been going about 30 miles an hour when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Spang's Literary Articles Accepted by Many Magazines

BY LAMAR SPARKS.
Long ago Mrs. D. P. Spang got married because she could not help it. Now she gets married because it pays her—in terms of dollars and cents.

But thrills are fleeting. So Mrs. Spang took her kodak along to seize the source of her delight. Sometimes it was an old carved desk nestling in a shadowed alcove that caught her fancy; pine trees painting their shadows against the white-shingled face of a cozy cottage, or an upright Roman lamp with its snuffer, rods and extinguisher dangling like idle hands. And then Mrs. Spang conceived the idea of telling the story of these bits of beauty and illustrating them with her own pictures. Some of these have found their way into Better Homes and Gardens, House Beautiful and other periodicals; some, which are veritable written portraits, are going to intimate friends as Christmas presents and others are still tucked away at her home, 804 West Peachtree street.

Mrs. Spang's most recently accepted article, "Wayside Airs," brought this note from the editor of House Beautiful: "We find your story delightful and are glad to have it for our magazine. In this collection of impressions about houses, which Mrs. Spang as alive as human beings, she refers to a celebrity who helped to set the boat of her hopes a-sail on so perilous a career. This is none other than Mildred Seydell, well-known feature writer of this city. "And what is it that is so fascinating about this business of illustrating and describing these homes that you see?" she was asked.

Work is fascinating. "Oh, it is my form of fancy work," she laughed, drawing from the desk a package of little booklets which she had written, illustrated and bound, sat down at the small square table in her room. There was something incongruous about it all, this woman with her gold and silver hair offset by the white coral choker at her throat, a perfect picture from an old daguerotype, sitting there, surrounded through rimmed glasses beside a folding typewriter.

"You see it is like collecting beauty. I see a thing that thrills me and then I want to pass it on to someone else. "You remember, of course, that couple. The world is so full of interesting things, I am sure we should all be happy as kings." Well, that is the way I feel. "She was fairly bubbling as she talked. "Brevity was personified through her words and the eagerness of her gestures.

"But the rest of us? Most of us have a potential enthusiasm. But we are not always aware of it. "She paused, still holding her "written portrait" of some cherished home, brushed away all doubts and answered: "Well, I have another bit of philosophy which I like to practice, and it works very well: "For every evil under the sun there is a remedy, or there is none. If there be one, try and find it. If there be none, find it."

Early Life.
If the personality of Mrs. Spang is any criterion, the enthusiasms of life are born on the long rough road. She was left a widow with two small children many years ago and since that time life has not been altogether one grand heyday. "But always, whether she made her home in St. Louis, Mo., where she was born, New Orleans, where she found many of her rare treasure photos, or in Atlanta, where she has lived for the past ten years, she has always been a part of the world's joys and passed them along. "Old? Why, I never think of my-

MRS. D. P. SPANG.

my life as much as I have any part of all the rest."

She was warm, withal. She is friendly, Mrs. Spang, when those who know her best call "Dee-dee" as a clever contraction of her first initials, D. P., which are gracing the pages of our better homes magazines. Charm is evident in her manner, the soft brown eyes that look at you with so much understanding and the eagerness with which she shows you her cherished books. One contains the evolution of the little negro cabin to a cottage de luxe, a clever transformation with the aid of quaint side porches and a burst of color in the form of orange awnings across the front.

"There, doesn't that thrill you? I asked my daughter when I saw that dear little thing. "No, Dee-dee, dear; little houses don't thrill me," she laughed again. "Sometimes they just say, 'Oh, Dee-dee is like that.'"

Makes Friends.
"And then, you know, it gives me a chance to make friends all over the world. One woman, after seeing my story in Better Homes and Gardens, wrote the editor: 'I had just bought the quaintest pitcher from a shelf in a mountain cabin. The stamp on the bottom was all I knew about it. And then this morning I opened your magazine, and there was my little pitcher.' "It was one of my illustrations," Mrs. Spang said. "She requested the editor to send her letter to D. P. Spang and have her tell her more about a pitcher which she considered priceless. "And what is the secret of it all—this business of being thrilled; you haven't told me," she was asked. "Some people call it plain old ordinary contentment," she replied. "You laugh with her. But down in your heart you wonder if she has ever told."

LATEST HERRIN OUTRAGE BLAMED ON CICERO GANG

Herrin, Ill., December 13.—(AP)—Herrin's latest outbreak in which two policemen were wounded last night, resulted from an influx of gangsters from Chicago or St. Louis, officers believed today.

Sheriff Leon Coleman said Mayor Marshall McCormack connected the shooting with seizure of Herrin police last Wednesday of an automobile, stolen in East St. Louis, containing a car and a cap with the label of a clothier in Cicero, Chicago suburb. Sheriff Coleman said he had suspected for some time the Chicago gangsters had taken up headquarters at West Frankfort in Franklin county, which adjoins Williamson county.

THE CONNOISSEUR

It takes the gallant Van de View a half an hour or better To perform a simple little thing like mailing of a letter. For as long as there are ladies he politely takes his stand And holds the flapper open with his derby hat in hand.

For in cold December weather, he thinks it most essential To help the ladies everywhere in manner deferential, And his high regard increases as he sees A puff of lovely beaver that should make it warm enough.

And while the wind is blowing in a most terrible gale Another one he kindly helps a stack of things to mail; And the cuff upon her stunning coat—a spiral thing of fur— Seems the ultimate of smartness to the knowing Connoisseur.

And although his hands are freezing and his teeth begin to chatter He only grins and bears it and decides it doesn't matter. In fact it makes him warmer just to bow and to assist. When he sees a gorgeous sleeve with fur from elbow to the wrist.

DIET AND HEALTH

BY LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

CANCER AND OPERATION.
"Dear Doctor: For almost a year I have had a sore spot on my right breast. I have seen a doctor, who said it was an enlarged gland, and told me to massage it lightly with iodine. I have done this, but I do not see any result. I am so afraid of cancer. I will do anything which I think might benefit me except to be operated upon. I have heard of so many cases that died within a year's time after an operation. I am only 22 years old and have a little girl two years old. I have never been sick enough to have a physician; in fact, always have had good health. "MRS. W."

I will tell you why you hear of so many who die in a year's time after being operated upon for cancer. It is because they have done exactly what you are doing, dear Mrs. W. They have been willing to do anything, except to be operated upon, for so long a time that when they did have to be operated upon the cancer cells were distributed throughout the system, if it were cancer. There is no doubt if you would go back to that same doctor—if he is a scientific man—he would not tell you to try local remedies now that the sore has lasted so long. It probably isn't cancer. Mrs. W., for you are very young, but youth can be afflicted with cancer, so I strongly advise you to consult a reputable surgeon right away. If you have to have an operation, don't be a silly child; for if it is not cancer, it will be a very small operation, if it is necessary to operate. And if you wait until it is a cancer, you will have to have your entire breast and part of the chest wall, and all of the glands under the arm, removed. Now stop worrying about yourself, Mrs. W., and the only way you can do that is to consult a competent surgeon.

Starvation Diets.
"Dear Doctor: Would the following plan be harmful to a nineteen-year-old girl? To eat only about 400 calories a day for a week or so, and then to resume regular meals for a day? I lost eight pounds last week on a diet like that, and certainly feel all right, and have found that I don't need so much food. My grandmother.

I Have Said in My Heart

BY IDAH MCGLONE GIBSON, UNDERSTANDING

While we are doing so much talking about "a better understanding" between different races and various nations; between capital and labor, Wall street and the farmer, and between other widely divergent and apparently irreconcilable classes of the human race, why not try to clear up a little of the understanding with which men regard women?

Just when in the long distant past man came to the conclusion that woman was a conundrum which he declined to answer no one seems to know.

He has made her in his mind a mixture of angel, Circe and fool. He has never by any possibility thought of her as having the same qualities as himself.

He gallantly insists that she is composed of the entire flora and fauna of this earth—except that part of the animal kingdom to which he himself belongs. One moment he gives her credit for having a brain and the next he insists that she shall be all heart.

He does not give her human faults or human virtues. He does not give her human idiosyncracies or human failings. Down deep in the heart of every man a woman is a woman, and nothing else.

Men still think of women as something that was created out of one of their unnecessary bones for their own little toys—something to be played with and cared for, kissed and dismissed, caressed and metaphorically cuffed, according to their vagrant fancies.

Men consider it no particular disgrace to chuck a coquettish waitress or chambermaid under the chin, to ask them to even dine with them if the woman is pretty enough to attract them, but a woman would feel herself much disgraced if she should act in the same way to a prepossessing waiter or clerk.

Woman is just as good and just as bad as man—no better, no worse. There are good men and bad men. There are good women and bad women, and a bad woman is no worse than a bad man.

Men have no superior intelligence, no superior judgment, no superior good sense, just because they have been born men. Women have no superior goodness; they are no more unselfish, no more loyal, no more devoted, than are men just because they have been born women.

The whole controversy over this man and woman equality and understanding question starts from the wrong premise. Men in one breath give women impossible virtues and yet seem to think they can be guilty of improbable vices.

Memo: Women have minds as well as hearts, courage as well as sympathy, reason as well as intuition. fed up on these starvation diet scares, tells me it will cause some disaster to the reproductive organs; but I assure her it will not affect anything but the adipose tissue.

Grandmothers usually have more sense, M., than you credit them with. It is harmful for young people to go on a starvation diet, for as long as a week or so. Can't you see that unless you are furnishing the elements your growing tissues need that they will be upset? It may be all right to go on a low diet for one day a week, but I wouldn't extend it over that time in youth. There are too many young people who are lowering their resistance to tuberculosis lately through wrong dieting.

Have you our instructions on reducing? If not, send ten cents in stamps and a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request. Have you bought your little Christmas Seals to do your bit in helping to eradicate and alleviate tuberculosis?

Address your queries with stamped, self-addressed envelope, to Dr. Lulu Hunt Peters, care The Atlanta Constitution.

Tomorrow: Answers to Mothers.

Goodrich Finishes Sullivan in One Round at Ringside

Fast Fighting Features Good Tuesday Card

Kayo Vickers Gets Technical Win Over Morgan in Grudge Bout.

BY JIMMIE MILLER.

It is probably a lucky thing for a number of middleweights throughout the south that Ted Goodrich is soon to leave for points north and east, where larger purses prevail. Last night, before the largest crowd yet to witness a fight card sponsored by the new Ringside club, Goodrich rather annihilated Dixie Sullivan in one round and a fraction of a second. Starting a long right-hand swing just as the gong sounded, it caught Sullivan squarely on the chin and sent him on to dreamland. The blow landed a fraction of a second after the bell, and automatically this would have given the fight to Sullivan. But when the Birmingham scrapper's manager explained that his fighter would be unable to continue owing to a dislocated jaw suffered from the blow, Referee Budd gave the fight to Goodrich. Probably his decision was influenced by two blows landed by Sullivan, on both occasions when part of Goodrich's body was out of the ring. Sullivan reached out and landed clean blows before Goodrich could return to the inside. Both of these blows were fouls, and the referee would have been justified in declaring Goodrich the winner then and there. Sullivan displayed something new in the way of a dangerous right-hand swing at the beginning. It started low and gathered momentum as it traveled along, circling his opponent's shoulders and arms. Goodrich landed almost as he pleased, and showed plenty of class by the masterful way in which he disposed of his opponent. Sullivan was downed once for a count of nine from a hard right cross, and again for a "no count" from a stiff left jab. Sullivan evidently had a bad evening's entertainment had the fight lasted longer.

Another Kayo.

In the semi-windup, Young Carter, local lightweight, ran his consecutive string of knockouts to the total of nine, when a stiff right to the pit of the stomach in the fourth ended what chances Jimmy Murphy might have thought he had of winning. Carter took to the aggressive at the opening, and continually rebuffed his opponent until the last blow was landed. The grudge fight between Johnny (K. O.) Vickers and Carter Morgan ended in about the same manner. To all such advertised adversaries. Just where Vickers got the K. O. part of his name is something of a mystery as he had Morgan after the first time every round after the first but didn't pack the necessary wallop to finish the job. In the middle of the sixth round the referee stopped the fight and awarded Vickers the decision on a technical knockout. Both gave the other a friendly hug at the end and seemingly agreed to call a halt to future bitterness between the two.

Amateurs Split Gore.

The card was opened with a gossamer six-round affair between two local amateurs who styled themselves as Spike Kelly and Add' Thaxton. Kelly won on a technical knockout in the third when the referee halted the fight to save Thaxton from further punishment. Another card or two of the caliber of last night's fight will firmly place Atlanta on the map again as a fight center. Every bout furnished plenty of excitement, and the cash customers went away well repaid for their time and also for the price of admission. It was announced that Larry Ayers would meet Goodrich as the headliner of next week's card.

Putting Fight in Fighting.

One of the reasons for the popularity of the fight game in Detroit was made plain in a wire story from the Michigan city last night.

The reason is that when fighters enter the ring in Detroit they understand fully that they are not filling a contract that calls for aesthetic dancing nor are they expected to show their mutual respect and admiration by locking arms in fond embrace every time one or the other gets a love tap on the knicker.

Last night C. M. Hall, a member of the boxing commission, took his place at the ringside equipped with a megaphone. He was perfectly quiet until Benny Bass, featherweight champion claimant, started loafing in the sixth round.

Commissioner Hall then announced to the assembly at large that Bass was fined $250 for stalling. His manager objected and Mr. Hall slapped a $250 fine on the manager for arguing. There was no more arguing that evening but several rounds later when Johnny Farr, the other fastidiously gentleman became tired and starting hanging on, he was fined $250 and the crowd went home satisfied that if they didn't get their money's worth then neither did the fighters get all their money.

That's a darn good system and might help in these parts. Of course on the same basis there are many fighters in this section who might owe the commission money when they finished but that would be all right, too.

Important Trades.

When baseball opens again in the spring Detroit fans will miss a very familiar face and one which will be hard to replace when Lu Blue goes to the Boston Braves. There have been greater hitting first basemen in the league but as a fielder Blue recognizes no peer.

With Neun coming along so rapidly Moriarity will not need the old veteran as much as he used to but it seems a shame to see such a great first-sacker as Blue slipping. With him goes Heinie Manush and there, too, the Tigers lose a good man but in getting Rice they are making a better than even trade. Van Gilder, the other Brown who comes to Detroit in the trade, should have several years of good baseball in his good right arm and Detroit needs winning pitchers.

Rumor has it that George Sisler would be the third man in the trade to Detroit but that seems hardly probable in view of the fact that Sisler is too good trading material to be used for anything Detroit is likely to put on the block.

Strand's Record.

In looking through the baseball guide we find that Paul Strand, who will wear a Cracker uniform next season, has something to be proud of in his past baseball record. He may be getting along in years and may be on the downhill but in 1923 with the Salt Lake club he rapped out 325 hits in 194 games.

He had 43 homers, 13 triples and 66 two-base knocks. He also stole 22 bases. He batted in 187 runs. Let's hope that history repeats itself.

Sport Ritticisms

by BILL RITT

If John McGraw's prediction that ball clubs may soon travel by plane comes true, the sport news may soon be something like this:

London—Berlin defeated the Monarchs in a double-header today. Otto Schnapps, batting star of the Pretzels, hit a homer and won a keg of Pilsener for the longest drive of the season.

Rome—Benito Mussolini opened the season by pitching the first ball for the Spaghetthis. The game ended in the third inning when Black Handers blew up the grandstands.

Moscow—Ivan Tuffy, manager of the Bolsheviks, denied today that his club had bought the Cincinnati Reds for a farm. "Those guys are too radical for us," said Ivan.

Shanghai—The Canton Red Sox are in the market for more players. After losing ten straight games the entire team was assassinated.

Cairo—The Great Pyramid has been renovated and will be used as a grandstand this season by the Mummies. It is also said the Egyptians hope to inject new blood into the squad, which last season appeared to be dead on its feet.

Buenos Aires—The Llaneros are back in town, after a barnstorming tour of the Cannibal Islands. Sam Hefity, their fat pitcher, did not return with the team. "You see," the manager explained, "we arrived in the islands just before dinner, and—"

Here's One Man Who Knows His Boxing Racket

Detroit, December 13.—(AP)—

Something novel in the way of providing inducements for highly paid boxers to put forth their best efforts during bouts here has been worked out by C. M. Hall, a member of the boxing commission.

The plan consists of stimulating action by fining the fighters so much per round for each session in which they believe they have stalled and in announcing his levy to the cash customers via the megaphone. At a recent bout between Benny Bass, featherweight champion claimant, and Johnny Farr here, the act ran thusly:

The boys started off at a fast clip, but slowed down to a walk in the sixth round, at the conclusion of which Hall boomed forth: "Bass is fined $250 for dogging it."

Phil Glassman, manager of Bass, objected strenuously. "Two hundred and fifty dollars fine for Glassman."

No more objections from Glassman. The fighters banged away at each other with zest for three rounds and then Farr starting hanging on. "Two hundred and fifty dollars fine for Farr for hanging on!" Hall announced.

There was no more stalling.

Loughran Meets Leo Lomski Soon

New York, December 13.—(AP)—The promise of Tommy Loughran that he would fight "twelve times in twelve months is possible" when he came into undisputed possession of the world's light heavyweight title seemed on the way to partial fulfillment today.

The husky young Philadelphian, recognized for months as the 175-pound king by the New York state athletic commission, whipped Jimmy Slattery, crowned titleholder by the National Boxing association, only last night but this afternoon he was ready to make good his promise.

"Just one week's rest," he said, "and I shall start training for my first real title defense against Leo Lomski in Madison Square garden January 6. Then I want another match with Slattery as quickly as it can be arranged. Anyone else who aspires to the title has got to come forward and ask for a chance to fight and I'll accommodate them."

The New York commission revealed today that the decision giving its stand-arbearer the championship was not unanimous. Although judges Tom Flynn and Charles Mathison voted for the Philadelphian, "Adon" Referee Lou Magnolia voted the match a draw. Although no figures were disclosed, both Loughran and Slattery were believed to have received approximately $16,000 apiece for their efforts. Slattery, who seeks a return match, showed no scars of the battle, and Loughran bore only a slight cut under his left eye, an old wound reopened in the battle.

All-Star Team Off for Coast Next Saturday

Senior Grid Stars of South Meet in Tuscaloosa Saturday.

BY WHITNER CARY.

While football cleats and shoulder pads are now listed among the non-essentials by most of the football brethren who but a few weeks ago were charging up and down various gridirons of the south, such is not the case with the lucky bunch of seniors who have been selected by Coaches Wade, McGugin and Alexander to make the long trek to Los Angeles to represent the south in the all-star east-west football encounter on December 28.

Just a few more days, three to be exact, and the little band of southerners, the pick of the senior players of Dixie, will assemble in Tuscaloosa. Saturday the bunch will get together as a unit for the first time and that day will see their one and only practice before leaving for the wide-open spaces. That night at 10 o'clock the southern crusaders will entrain for the Pacific. The team will reach Los Angeles in time to allow five days of practice.

With all the players just out of training, it will probably not take a great deal of hard work for the boys to again get in condition. The matter of team work is another proposition.

From the first time an all-star selection was ever made in the long ago past people have often wondered just how these stellar outfits would function if brought under the same banner. The coming game should answer this question to some extent.

Team of Veterans.

But the fact that all members of the team are seniors and are star players means that they are veterans at the game. That they have seen long and hard service. They know a lot of football. There will be no time wasted in learning fundamentals. The coaches' main idea will be to get as much coordination and team work as possible. The Pacific coast takes in the short time allowed for practice.

The signals will be given to the players on Saturday. The first practice will be on Sunday. On the train during the long journey there will be a good deal of skill practice and instruction as to the methods of attack and defense.

Once on the ground at Los Angeles, the team will have a five-day period to get the theories into some kind of practical working shape. While the southern players will have a long journey and but a short time for practice, the same holds true to some extent in the case of their opponents. The Pacific coast takes in considerable country and when it is considered that players will come all the way from Washington it can be seen that the Pacific coast takes in only ones that will do a lot of traveling.

System Employed.

Just what system the southerners will use in the forthcoming encounter is not known. As the coaches are from Alabama, Vanderbilt and Tech, and as tactics followed by each of these mentors are somewhat different, it is hard to say just what particular system will be employed.

It is almost certain that nothing of a very complicated nature will be attempted. The huddle system of calling signals will in all probability be followed.

As Spears is the quarterback and has much of the offense will be built around this player, it is not unlikely that the southern team will depend upon a punt formation from which to run most of its plays.

SANDLOTTERS MIX SATURDAY IN TITLE GAME

The championship of the 125-pound sandlot football league will be decided Saturday morning at 10 o'clock when the Maddox Park Rats and the North-side Bulldogs meet in combat at either Spiller's field or Grant field.

Neither of these teams has lost a game of the seven played in the regular schedule and experts who have been watching them declare that they will be evenly matched when they meet Saturday.

The Maddox Park team boasts such stars as Pogram, Lioneval, Manley and Nolan, while the Terrors balance that strength with Eckord, Moon, Price and Woodall.

Following this game the championship contenders in the 140-pound league will meet with the title at stake. Grant Park and the Rinky Dinks will come to grips in this second tussle. These two teams have not been defeated but have ties on their schedule this year.

Not Bothered by Change.

The change in grid rules, moving the goal posts ten yards behind to final chalk mark, did not bother Jerry Bradley, of Wittenberg, this season. Bradley attempted 22 kicks for extra points during the season and made good 19. Three field goals also are included in his record.

Sport Review of 1927

BY NORMAN E. BROWN.

For a Winter Month, February Did Very Well

THE fact that it was a winter month did not prevent February from claiming the interest of baseball fans.

Ty Cobb, baseball's superman, moved his diamond togs, after playing two decades in one uniform, that of the Detroit Tigers, and setting up a list of records that surpasses even those established by old Pop Anson.

Connie Mack, Athletics' boss, signed Cobb to play center field for the Athletics at a salary of $65,000. This deal, coming on top of the sensational day by day over the charges hurled against Cobb and Speaker by Dutch Leonard and then the vitriolic attacks of Ben Johnson, easily made Cobb the outstanding figure of the month.

The New York Yankees traded Sam Jones, veteran pitcher, for Joe Giard, a young hurler, and Geddie Durst, outfielder. The Yanks didn't need either man and Jones didn't do the Browns any good. Which helped give the Browns a batting average of .000 on trades for the year.

The Davis Cup committee barred Vincent Richards, star of the 1926 games, from cup competition in 1927 because of his appearances as a professional.

Leniglen Collects. Suzanne Lenglen, French tennis wizard, ended her American tour with over $100,000 in her bankbook as a result.

Golfers received another choice morsel to mull over when Gene Sarazen and Walter Hagen hooked up in a 72-hole match. Sarazen had announced in a magazine article that he had Walter's golfing goat. And results of previous battles between the two seemed to indicate as much.

But, oh, what Hagen did to him when they met in the grudge match! Dapper Walter won with a lead of 16 holes over the 72—a sardonic grin on his face.

A Cold Dish. Boxing was served a delightful dish of old cheese when Charley Phil Rosenberg, bantam champion, and Rosley Graham were signed for a title bout in New York. The battle was staged.

Rosenberg was unable to make the bantam limit the day of the fight and was forced to abdicate his throne as far as New York state was concerned. The fight was one of those things. A few days later all parties involved were suspended, because of the revealing of secret contracts between the managers.

Tex Rickard staged the first of his elimination matches which led to the long count at Chicago. Jimmy Maloney, Boston butcher, and Jack Delaney, Canadian sharpshooter, met in New York and Maloney won on points in 10 rounds.

So after it was announced that Sullivan couldn't return to the ring after the first round, they rushed him to Grady, where an X-ray was made. It was found that one side of the Birmingham boy's jaw had been fractured before the bout and that Goodrich had made this jaw-busting business complete.

Where Mr. Sullivan picked up a fractured jaw before this fight seems rather hazy in Mr. Buice's mind. Probably Sullivan has a habit of exposing his jaw. And probably there are other fighters like Goodrich who have a habit of taking a healthy crack at anything like that being exposed.

Anyhow, Sullivan has both sides of his jaw fractured and he can attest that Mr. Goodrich is one of the toughest men who ever socked him on the jaw.

Joe Stecher and Strangler Lewis may meet in St. Louis, Mo., some time this winter to settle the controversy over the world's heavyweight title. Stecher is the present king of the division.

Another Kearns Suit Dismissed
New York, December 13.—(United News.)—Jack Dempsey won another decision over Jack Kearns, his former manager, in their legal battle when Federal Judge Frederick A. Winslow today dismissed one of the breach of contract suits brought by Kearns.

The amount involved was $250,000, purported to represent a third of Dempsey's earnings for exhibitions in the United States, Mexico and Europe.

Judge Winslow refused to dismiss another suit brought by Kearns against Dempsey for $233,333.33. He told Arthur F. Driscoll, Dempsey's attorney, that if similar action now was taken in the Philadelphia federal court was not tried in January he would reconsider the motion to dismiss.

Few Applications For Righeimer Job
Chicago, December 13.—(AP)—Chairmanship of the Illinois State Athletic commission, paying $4,500 a year, ceases the prospect of begging for a proper person to fill it. Now that John C. Righeimer has resigned a good political appointment is open, but with few candidates.

Lots of work and even more grief have been the lot of the commission in its 18 months' existence. Righeimer has said that he attributed the duties and constant complaints of his office a contributing factor to ill health.

The number of boxing promoters in Illinois making money could almost be counted on the fingers of one hand, with the fist closed, but a new crop is always springing up, making more work for those charged with protecting the public in supervision of boxing programs.

Tunney Again Visits Chicago; Well Received

Everyone of Any Importance—2,500, in Fact—Attend Banquet.

Chicago, December 13.—(United News.)—Gene Tunney returned today to the city which paid him a million dollars for beating Jack Dempsey last fall and enacted the role of Santa Claus.

After spending the day as celebrities usually do when they come to Chicago, Tunney was the guest of honor tonight at a banquet at which funds were raised to be used for Christmas charity.

Everybody who amounts to anything was at the banquet and the heavyweight champion was the chief attraction and the reason for the large attendance. The company of 2,500 was a trifle less imposing socially, on the whole, than Gene used to be. But he seemed thoroughly happy.

While it was reported that Tunney may have come here to "dicker" with Jim Mullen, rival of Tex Rickard in promoting the next championship fight, Tunney refused to discuss the subject.

Tunney said he was going to Florida from here.

Plenty of Seats Left at Tech Banquet

There is no need for any Tech supporter to feel that there is a scarcity of places at the annual banquet to be given the jacket team on Friday evening at the Atlanta Athletic club. On the contrary, there is plenty of room.

According to Al Doonan, director of club activities, the banquet hall will seat 1,250. There have been many applications for seats at what promises to be the greatest and best function ever tendered a victorious or defeated Tech team, but there is still room for many more to gather around the board, eat good things and hear witty talks.

Those desiring places are requested to hand in their applications at the Atlanta Athletic club office.

Expect 2,500 in Tourney.

Twenty-five hundred cue artists are expected to participate in the first tournament of the Chicago Amateur Billiard association, which will begin on December 5.

HELEN WILLS TOURS EUROPE NEXT SEASON

San Francisco, Calif., December 13. (AP)—Helen Wills, American and British tennis champion, will tour Europe next year as a member of a two-woman team officially representing the United States Lawn Tennis association. This became known today when Miss Wills telegraphed acceptance of the invitation extended by the national tennis body.

Matches will be played with the leading women racquet players of France, England, Germany and Belgium. The other member of the team has not been selected, but it is understood that Penelope Anderson, of Richmond, Va., and Mrs. Charlotte Hosmer Chapin, of Springfield, Mass., are being considered. Both are high ranking players. Miss Wills plans to leave either in April or early in May.

The Berkeley miss has definitely decided not to play in the French championships, June 21, as the date is too close to that of the Wimbledon tournament when she will defend her all-English title, and the Wightman cup matches. Selection of Miss Anderson or Mrs. Chapin was planned so as to give both the Atlantic and the Pacific coasts representation.

His ring experience as one of the leaders in the featherweight division in his younger days.

Ned Merriam, former Chicago university track star, and member of the American Olympic team, is the new assistant track coach of the Maroon. After competing in the Olympics in 1908, he coached at Ames from 1909 to 1923. He resigned from Ames and spent a year at DePaul. He also spent two years as assistant coach at Yale.

J. P. C. QUINT OPENS CAGE PLAY TONIGHT

The J. P. C. quintet will open its basketball season tonight on its home court, meeting Clemson college. This court tilt will mark the first major game of the season, and should be a good one.

Preceding this game will be a clash between the J. P. C. Reds, a junior organization, and the Commercial High quint.

The J. P. C.'s have a large number of men from last year's squad back for this season and it is the opinion of Monk Duran, who coaches the team, that he will be able to offer stiff opposition to any and all teams this year.

The Jays have Captain Luke Rosenberg and Kid Socoloff back at guard, Hilman at center and Joe Finkelshtein and Friedland at forwards from last year's team.

Spilbecker is the only man gone. Harman and Balser, forwards; Klein and a younger brother of Spilbecker's and Jakey Hirsch are also on the squad.

The opening tilt between the Reds and Commercial will begin at 7:30 o'clock and the J. P. C. Clemson tilt will follow immediately after this is over.

Contos Holds Last '27 Mat 'Go' Thursday

Presents All-Star Card at Auditorium at Reduced Prices.

Tickets for the Paul Jones-Jack Washburn wrestling show at the city auditorium tomorrow night will be placed on sale today, according to an announcement by Matchmaker John Contos. The advance sale will be handled through Chess Place, the Piedmont Hotel and the Piedmont hotel cigar stand.

As previously announced the show is being staged at reduced prices, which reduction Matchmaker Contos has styled his Christmas present to the wrestling fans of the city. However John insists that he has not reduced the quality of his cards and a perusal of the lineup bears out his contention.

In addition to the two-hour main event between Jones and Washburn there will be a one-hour prelim between Jimmy London and Charles Hanson. On top of that the Hellenic matchmaker is trying to match two local wrestlers in a short bout.

Contos believes that the show will prove to be one of the best that he has offered here and with Jones in the headline spot it is likely to appeal to the fancy of the fans, as Paul is one of the most popular wrestlers ever to appear here.

In Washburn Jones is meeting a tough foe, one who has a weight advantage of something like 20 pounds and who is fast and skilled enough to take care of himself regardless of what type of opposition he is up against.

Washburn was beaten by Scotty McDougal in his last appearance here, but it was plain even from the ringside that the defeat resulted as much from an accident as anything else. Washburn was tripped and fell heavily to the floor, and before he could regain his feet McDougal was on top of him and had the Oklahoma cowboy's shoulders nailed to the mat.

The semi-windup between Hanson and London promises to be full of action from start to finish. Hanson made his first appearance here last week and left quite an impression on the fans. He is of the same size and build as the Greek star and moves around the ring as fast as his Hellenic opponent.

London's chief supporters are the Greeks and they are expected to turn out in a body to cheer for their favorite. However, Hanson will not be without his supporters as a result of his victory over Jim Browning.

S. C. BASKET SQUADS GET TO WORK

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. Southern conference basketball squads were settling down this week to a long winter's practice for the court battling that will grow fast and furious between now and late February when the championship tournament is held.

Up in the Chapel Hill lair of the Tar Heels, where winning basketball championships has become a habit, the team is out to regain the laurels it lost in the Atlanta tournament last March.

And from the warm-up scores the North Carolina quint has been turning in it seems that the optimism is well founded.

Coach Jim Ashmore has five Blue and White veterans back to build around and the reserves look more than promising.

Vandy Has Hopes. Then, too, Vanderbilt, the team that uncrowned the Tar Heels, has hopes of retaining its title.

Georgia has a nucleus of veteran material back to carry on with. The Bulldogs went to the finals in the last conference tourney.

Up in the Blue Grass country around Lexington, Ky., another threat is developing. The University of Kentucky, boasting a squad that looks like a championship team now, headed by Jenkins, star guard, is preparing for the Atlanta event and has arranged a strenuous schedule to lead up to the big test.

V. P. I. Looks Good. Virginia Poly has five letter men back to start its season. Twenty-five candidates are out for the varsity at Virginia Military Institute. North Carolina State, a team that had great potentialities a year ago, seems headed for the top in early season work. South Carolina, Alabama, Auburn, Tulane, Florida, Tennessee, Ole Miss, Georgia Tech, Virginia, Sewanee, Louisiana State, Maryland and the others have already begun workouts and have games set for the next few days.

Nelson Scores Double Victory

Nelson, Ga., December 13.—Some fine basketball was displayed here when the Nelson High Schoolboys' and girls' team won over the Nelson A. C. and the A. & M. Girls from Dalton, Ga. The girls had the floor in the first affair, winning 40 to 28, after a hard fight that looked as though the visitors would carry home the bacon.

In the boys' affair the High School team had it over the Nelson A. U. both in team work and condition. Lawson led the attack with 23 counters, and was aided by some good playing on the part of Jackson and Brown. For the Nelson A. C. Patterson, Chapman and Pettit were the best.

Tigers, Cards, Browns, Phils Do Business

George Sisler, Brown First-Sacker, Will Probably Go to Washington.

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY.

United News Staff Correspondent. New York, December 13.—Two important trades, a surprise session of the American league and the 534 annual meeting of the National league constituted today's activities in the baseball world.

The Detroit Tigers traded Heinie Manush, outfielder, and Lou Blue, first baseman, to the St. Louis Browns for Harry Rice, outfielder; Elam Von Gier, pitcher, and a third player to be named later.

In the National league the Cardinals sent Jimmy Ring, pitcher, and John Schute, catcher, to the Philadelphia Phillies for Johnny Moku, outfielder; Jimmy Cooney, infielder, and Clarence Jonnard, catcher.

Sisler to Go. The addition of Blue to the Browns apparently means that George Sisler will be traded or sold. The Senators offered Joe Judge for Johnny Neun, of the Tigers, but Manager George Moriarty turned down the proposition.

Routine business occupied the attention of the National league officials in their first day's session.

Hank O'Day Relieved. Hank O'Day, veteran National league umpire, was relieved from all active duty and henceforth will act in the capacity of general player and umpire scout. O'Day has been in the league as an umpire every season since 1903 except in 1912, when he managed the Reds and in 1914 when he was with the Cubs in the same capacity.

The three-umpire system was endorsed. The dates for the Matty memorial at Bucknell university, Lewisburg, Pa., were set tentatively for June 3 or 4, and spring umpiring was discussed. Presidents Heydier and Barnard will work out a new plan for the spring series umpires in 1929.

Two records were broken in 1927 by the National league. The attendance was well over 5,000,000, passing that mark for the first time in history. The greatest number of baseballs were used, 51,996.

The Cubs played to the most persons at home—1,396,000—and the Giants drew the best on the road, playing to well over 1,000,000.

Chicago, December 13.—(AP)—A renewal of liquidation with southern and local selling caused a further sharp decline in the cotton market today. January sold off from 18.45 to 17.90, new low for the movement, and a net decline of about 35 points, but a good part of the loss was recovered, and it closed at 18.16.

The general market showed a net decline of 1 to 10 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 6 to 15 points. Active months quickly sold about 20 to 25 points higher on a spurt of covering, combined with trade and commission house buying promoted by relatively firm Liverpool cables.

The advance met increased offerings around 18.70 for March and 18.88 for May, and after the first flurry of buying had subsided, the market weakened under the demand and on covering by shorts due to reports from Washington of a possible congressional inquiry into the causes of the heavy liquidation in recent weeks ago on the local market.

March recovered to 18.47 and May to 18.58 and the market was a point or two lower.

Exports were 39,897 bales.

Prices rallied in the late afternoon on reports of a demand and on covering by shorts due to reports from Washington of a possible congressional inquiry into the causes of the heavy liquidation in recent weeks ago on the local market.

[earings seemed to increase as prices worked back toward the low levels of the previous day. There was considerable southern selling here, accompanied by rumors that there was some hedging against spot holdings in the south. Stop orders were uncovered on the break into new low ground, and the decline extended to 18.10 for March and 18.50 for May, or about 30 to 36 points net lower on the more active positions. Offerings again tapered off around these figures, however, and the market recovered to 18.30 points from the lowest in later trading on covering.

Private cables attributed the better tone of Liverpool to covering and trade calling at the decline below 10 pence, and Liverpool was reported a buyer here during early trading, while some buying also was reported for European trade accounts. There were also reports of a better spot demand in the south which may possibly have contributed to the late afternoon rally.

Exports today, 28,274, making 3,469,447 so far this season. Port receipts, 44,341. United States port stocks, 2,924,647.

Chicago, December 13.—(AP)—General selling out on the part of holders of future delivery grain contracts led to all-around smash in prices today. Corn in particular showed weakness, largely as a result of an unexpected good-sized amount of corn being delivered today to settle Chicago December contracts. Another source of weakness was the announcement of 4,102,000 bushels increase of the world's available supply of wheat.

Closing quotations on corn were heavy, 3 cents to 3 1/2 cents net lower, wheat 2 cents to 2 3/8 cents down, oats 1 1/4 cents to 1 5/8 cents off, and provisions unchanged to 20 cents decline.

Increasing arrivals of corn in the southwest and west of late had apparently much to do with the bottom dropping out of the corn market today. The free movement of corn in the sections named was responsible for making total primary domestic receipts on account of the new model.

Under a sharp break reported today in Argentine and Liverpool corn prices, the majority of Chicago traders turned to the selling side. In this connection it was pointed out that corn recently bought for a leading speculator here had come back into the pit.

New Argentine corn was reported today as being offered for April shipment, and word was also received that Liverpool corn prices were depressed on account of very large arrivals of corn expected at Liverpool this week. Under such circumstances, little or no notice was taken of the fact that corn belt weather conditions were unusually favorable, that country's export to Chicago were light, and that eastern shipping demand here had improved.

Total primary receipts of corn today were 1,123,000 bushels, against 840,000 bushels a year ago. Deliveries of corn in Chicago today on December contracts were 750,000 bushels.

In the wheat market an outstanding feature was the report that a reliable supply totaled 201,024,000 bushels, compared with 237,805,000 bushels a year back. There were also advices of large offerings of wheat from Argentina and Australia at a sharp discount under wheat from North America. Meanwhile, a leading authority here pointed out that with $9,000,000 bushels in the United States, the visible supply, 53,000,000 bushels in the Canadian visible and 37,000,000 bushels of bonded wheat in storage in the United States, the total supply did not suggest any scarcity for some time.

Oats were easier owing to sympathy with other grain prices.

Provisions declined, responsive to the action of hog values and corn.

Tobacco shares responded to rumors of special dividend action on the Tobacco Products issues, both of which had been high for some time.

Rice was up nearly 5 points to a new peak at 52 7/8 as against the year's low of 51 1/2. U. S. Rubber was in brisk demand following a confirmation of reports that members of the DuPont family had acquired a large block of the stock, acting as individuals and not as the E. I. du Pont de Nemours corporation.

Sugar shares responded favorably to the announcement of the formation of the sugar institute to stabilize trade conditions.

Brenneick Terminal touched 19, a record high price for all time and more than double the year's low. Other issues to reach new peak prices for the year or longer, were Continental Can, Continental Insurance, Curtiss Airplane, Wright Airplane, Endicott Johnson, International Nickel, Hume, Hume & Co., Truist & Williams, Montgomery-Ward and about a dozen others.

Rails seem to have recovered from the temporary depressing effects of the St. Louis and New York decisions. Canadian Pacific was bid up more than 5 points to 217 1/2 and Chesapeake & Ohio, Delaware & Hudson, and the National City and Bank of America were advanced 2 points or more. Atchison preferred and "Katy" preferred reached new high ground.

Foreign exchange moved within narrow and irregular limits. Sterling cables ruled slightly lower at 154-15, Spanish pesetas advanced another 5 points to around 16.80 cents.

Weakness of wheat prices, based on reports of increased offerings from the Argentine, was the outstanding development in the commodity markets. Active wheat futures dropped 2 cents or more a bushel. Trading in wheat futures on the New York produce exchange was discontinued for lack of interest. Cotton sold off 1 to 1 1/2 points and a slightly reactionary tone was apparent in the coffee and sugar markets.

SILK BANDITS RAID RAILROAD TRAIN

Langhorne, Pa., December 13.—(AP)—Raw silk, valued at $50,000, was stolen today when a Reading company freight train was held up near Nesquehanna Falls, near here, by a band of robbers. In an exchange of shots with the train crew, which did not prevent the bandits from carrying out the robbery, one of the band is believed to have been wounded. He was seen to be carried into an automobile and made his escape with the others.

The silk was stolen on the train at Jersey City and was consigned to a Chester firm. Several of the thieves are believed to have concealed themselves in the train before it left Jersey City and applied the air brakes at the appointed place, by severing the air lines.

George Dancy, the conductor, got out of the caboose when the train stopped suddenly in a deserted spot and was met with a fusillade of shots from the robbers.

He returned the fire and was joined by other members of the crew. The robbers, however, forced the seals of three of the cars and placed the silk on the ground where other members of the band, who had been hiding in a thicket, are believed to have transferred it to automobiles.

Several of the trainmen stopped the New York-to-St. Louis express, which came upon the scene shortly after the robbers made their getaway and the combined crews searched the surrounding woods. All they found were the tire marks of six automobiles.

State police were summoned.

"During the heavy gunfire," Dancy said, "I was standing on top of a boxcar, firing as fast as I could when one of the band suddenly toppled. Several of his companions ran to his assistance and dragged him away. I don't know what happened to him because two of the men at this point approached me, firing as they ran, and it was all I could do to defend myself."

COAL MEN GIVEN WARNING BY DAVIS

Washington, December 13.—(AP)—The absence of the principal coal mine operators in the Pennsylvania, Ohio and northern West Virginia bituminous fields failed to prevent today the progress of a conference of the industry called by the federal government.

Secretary Davis at the labor department a small group of operators and a contingent of the miners' union, led by John L. Lewis, and at a session behind closed doors undertook to put in motion negotiations for termination of the prolonged suspension of union mining in that portion of the bituminous region.

In his statement of the joint gathering, Davis expressed regret that "some operators have found it necessary to decline the invitation to discuss these matters of importance at this meeting," warning the industry that if public opinion should be aroused, the government could "compel action for the national good, however distasteful that action may temporarily be to the parties immediately affected."

He urged those present "to have a free interchange of ideas and a calm consideration of the matter still separating operators and miners."

After his address the secretary, with the aid of Hugh L. Kerwin and members of the department's conciliation staff, separated the operators and miners, meeting the mine owners present and the officials of the miners' union separately. It was estimated that the operators should represent mine with an annual output of 10,000,000 tons.

The freight was delayed half an hour, while a short distance away the express, bound for the west, stood for ten minutes.

Scores of passengers in the Pullman berths were aroused from the commotion.
